The visit of the national commander of the American Legion on these occasions has always been one of the most important and interesting on this occasion, it will prove no exception.

According to General Chairman,
Harry M. Long and Attorney Glenn Berry, chairman of the ticket committee, the banquet this year will be on a par with those of former years and there will be approximately sixteen hundred legionnaires from Western Pennsylvania and Eastern Ohio.

The national commander will arrive here at 9 a. m. and will stop at The Castleton. He will remain in

PA NEW OBSERVES

It's funny these little mysterious things you see. Monday afternoon, a parked car with a front wheel off, apparently forsaken, stood on South Croton avenue near Washington street. Some figured it an abandoned stolen car, but others weren't sure. No one knew.

Too bad, isn't it, that all clocks can't tell the same time. Yesterday the clocks along East Washing-

A few agreed, but the majority didn't.
Some came no way near compromising.

That breezy March wind provoked the wrath of one man yesterday.
He tried to light a cigarette, but the whipping wind spoiled each attempt.
Finally, he smothered his face with his coat collar, took a match and made a contact.

Argues Against Decisions Of Lawrence County Court
In Two Cases

(From News Bureau)
(State Capital)
HARRISBURG, Pa., Mar. 10.—
District Attorney John S. Powers of Lawrence county appeared today before the Superior Court of Pennsylvania in an effort to overturn the decisions of the Lawrence county court in the quashing of two indictments which had been presented to the December term of court.

Case in Question
The first case argued was that of the Commonwealth against Samuel D. Brady, in which Brady was charged with obtaining money under false pretense. This case arose out of the defendant's getting money from an automobile finance company, when according to the commonwealth, he did not hold title to the cars.

When the indictment was presented to the December 1930 term, the court quashed the indictment. In the opinion handed down the court stated that the wording of the indictment was improper, that the indictment was carelessly drawn, citing one clause "which was the property of one Pete Robertson" referring to the real owner, was part of the representation made by the defendant to the Central Acceptance Corporation. The commonwealth used the "restrictive relative clause" which was the property of

PLANS MADE FOR MEMBERSHIP DRIVE

Ralph W. Bolsinger, president of the New Castle Motor Club, for the past two years was re-elected for his third successive term at the meeting of the Board of Governors in the Castleton last evening.

The election was a popular one.
The club having made continued progress under the direction of Mr.
Bolsinger, who has been connected with the National Radiator plant here for the past thirteen years.

New members of the board of governors were inducted into office at the meeting and plans for an intensive membership campaign were inaugurated.

In spite of conditions which existed during the past year, the club has forged steadily forward, and under Mr. Bolsinger's guidance, the club is expected to have one of the biggest years in its history.

Other officers who were named at last evening's meeting were:
First vice president, Mrs. Jessie
A. Jamison.
Second vice president, C. C.
Cooper.
Treasurer, L. W. McClung.
Secretary, B. N. Hanlon.

GENERAL APPROPRIATION MEASURE BEFORE HOUSE

Bill Carrying Appropriation

HARRISBURG, Mar. 10.—The general appropriation bill, carrying approximately $190,000,000 for the ordinary expenses of the state government for the two years beginning June 1, 1931, today was before the house.

Sponsored by Rep. Steedle, Ali-gheny, the measure carries all of the figures submitted to the legislature by Gov. Pinchot earlier in the session. The bill, it is indicated, will come out of committee soon for one or two readings and put into shape so that when final adjournment comes it may be disposed of without delay.

The house today also had before it a bill appropriating $25,000 for the expenses of its utility investigating committee.

The measure was presented by Rep. Turner, Delaware, and faces little opposition in the lower chamber. It may be pigeonholed in the senate, however, or amended so as to provide a like sum for the senate probe committee.

Republicans To Wage Battle For Mid-West Votes

Normally Republican Mid-West Needed For Hoo-

BIG PROGRAM IS

Two Administration Stal-

By GEORGE R. HOLMES

WASHINGTON, Mar. 10.—If President Hoover is to be re-elected next year the votes of the normally Republican Middle West must be held strictly in line for him.

Acting upon this political theory,
the Republican high command in Washington, announced today the first step in a campaign that has been mapped out, with White House approval, to "sell" the achievements of the administration to the disgruntled agriculturists of the great grain belt.

Advisory Council
This step, which might be termed the opening gun of the 1932 Presidential conflict, consisted of the formation of an advisory council for agriculture, headed by two administration stalwarts from the wheat and corn belts, Senator Capper (R) of Kansas, and Senator Dickinson (R) of Iowa. Headquarters of the new council will be set up in Washington, with branch offices throughout the grain producing states.

The farm vote of 1932 has been causing Republicans acute worry.
Despite the setting up of the federal farm board and the expenditure of half a billion dollars in its operations, corn and wheat, the great money crops of the Middle West, are at the lowest prices in a quarter of

WOMAN'S RIGHTS BILL PRESENTED IN SENATE

(From News Bureau)
(State Capital)
HARRISBURG, Mar. 10.—Under the provisions of an act introduced by Senator George T. Weingartner, Monday night a married woman is put on an absolute equality with her husband.

The bill provides that a married woman shall have the same power as a married man to acquire, own, possess, control, use, lease, mortgage, sell or otherwise dispose of any property of any kind and may exercise the said right in the same manner as a married man.

The bill is the most forward step in woman's rights in Pennsylvania since the adoption of the 19th amendment. It means that married women can make contracts, sign notes, and conduct business without the consent of a husband. It gives women rights they have asked for many years. The bill has the endorsement of women's organizations and will probably be met with enthusiasm over the state.

Millionaire Is Facing Arrest In "Love" Mart

Nationally Known Millionaire Said To Have Purchased "Girl"

GIRL DISCLOSES ALLEGED ATTACK

(International News Service)
LOS ANGELES, Cal., Mar. 10.—
As the investigation of Hollywood's so-called "girl bazaar" progressed today, the district attorney's office indicated that an important arrest would be made soon. The man whose arrest loomed was described as a nationally known millionaire, who was said to have been a patron of the mart which Olive Clark Day admitted she had a part in operating.

Disclosures of a 16-year-old girl resulted in suspicion being directed toward the millionaire, it was stated.
She is now held in technical custody of Chief Investigator Blayney F.
Matthews of the district attorney's staff.

Miss Day, now at liberty under $5,000 bail, is reported to have told the district attorney that the girl had been "sold" to the millionaire at San Diego. The asserted attack on the girl was said to have occurred there several months ago.

Because the alleged attack took place in San Diego county the complaint against the millionaire will be issued there, it was said. An officer from the district attorney's office has already been sent to the southern city.

The millionaire whose arrest looms was stated to have made negotiations for the girl through a middle man, named by Miss Day as one of her "most profitable patrons." Miss Day is reported to have taken the girl to San Diego. A second girl who was said to have been taken there at the same time has not yet been located.

AFTERNOON TRIPS TO BE ABANDONED

Effective Saturday, March 14
Saturday afternoon mail deliveries both in the residential and business ford made known today.

The postmaster said last Saturday afternoon's delivery was the last, and beginning with the 14th only morning rounds will be made on Saturdays. The change is authorized by the passage of the 44-hour Kendall bill, reducing the full Saturday schedule for postal work-observed by the carriers. Under the new plan the schedule becomes effective on the year-round basis.

Postmaster Crawford asks patrons not to make inquiries for mail at the postoffice on Saturday afternoon.
Window clerks will not be permitted to leave their posts to secure mail

Bill Introduced Creating Board Of Healing Arts

Rep. Steedle, Allegheny, Introduces Measure At Session Today

WOULD ABOLISH MEDICAL BOARD

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Mar. 10.—Based on the report of the Healing Arts Commission made in 1929, a bill creating a State Board of Healing Arts in the State Department of Education was introduced in the house today by Rep. Steedle, Allegheny.

Under the provisions of the bill,
the State Board of Medical Examiners would be abolished and its powers and duties transferred to the Healing Arts Board. The Steedle bill would apply to all persons practicing or diagnosing in treatment of any human disease, pain or mental or physical condition, and is designed to bring within the provisions of the licensing law practitioners of chiropractic, osteopathy and allied arts.

Rep. Wilson, McKean, chairman of the house education committee, announced that a public hearing will be held tomorrow on all education bills before the committee and invited the public to be present to discuss the proposed laws.

An echo of the futile effort of Rep. Hoopes, Berks Socialist, to have the appropriations committee discharged from further consideration of his resolution to investigate the price of bread was heard in the lower chamber today when Rep.
Dunn, Allegheny, offered a similar resolution. The measure provides for a report on present bread prices from the secretary of agriculture and the director of the bureau of market by April 1.

share of the repaving of County

The project will be an early

IGNORE TROLLEY TRACKS
(International News Service)
HARTFORD, Conn., Mar. 10.—

hazards to many people in Connecticut," says Robbins B. Stockel, state commissioner of motor vehicles, who finds residents of the state altogether too careless about parking their machines near trolley lines, and who is campaigning to end the hazards.
Commissioner Stockel's study in the matter revealed the fact that so many trolley lines have been abandoned and their tracks left in place that people are taking it for granted that all trolley tracks are no longer in use. Results have been tragic.

The Pine Hills Malt and Hops company had entered into a contract for the sale of a number of barrels of hops to be delivered to the Alehouse Bottling company over a period of years. Several shipments had been made and payment for them received; but one day there came notice from the Pine Hills company saying that it would not ship any more, the contract notwithstanding, and advising the Ale-house Bottling works to make ar-where.

This seemed strange to the Ale-house company, so it instructed its lawyer to file suit. At the trial the Pine Hills company, in its defense argued that the Alehouse company could not sue at once, but must wait until the shipments were due prior to filing suit. This was the question woman. Late yesterday afternoon she called to ask the time, and not realizing that his watch had stopped, he informed the lady that it was 3:35, when actually the time was five o'clock.

The present winter calls to mind conditions which existed five years ago. In 1926 there had been little snow to amount to anything during the winter, and early in March a spell of winter set in which lasted for several weeks.

Wonder what the robins who migrated north during the last two weeks think of things? They'll have a tough time keeping their feet warm these days.

Continued snows of last night and the high wind resulted in many of the highways being drifted heavily with snow today. In many places it was necessary to shovel the snow off the highways with small shovels, the big snow plows being handicapped because of the freezing that had occurred during the night.

Peculiarities of weather conditions were marked in this city last night.
Early in the evening there was scarcely any snow to be seen on downtown streets, all of the heavy snow having melted during the day.
However, a mile or two out on the north hill or in any other section of the city, ultra-wintery conditions with everything covered with snow, existed.

Scores of motorists had to be given a boost or hauled out of ditches or snowdrifts during the night.
Traffic conditions were the worst that have existed during the present winter. Indications are, however, that the blizzard will let up during the day and the snow will soon melt when the sun comes out again.

Great consternation arose this morning in the North street school when the students entered the nature study room and found one of their pets had "turned up his toes" or rather "curled up" and died, for Mr. Black Snake, who was brought here a few weeks ago from Slippery Rock College, was found dead in his cage. The nature study teachers, Lenora Stuart and Helen Mis-sler, assisted by some of the students, are busy today preparing the snake for preservation. His skin is being stuffed and will be among the exhibits of the room.

DEMAND FIRST DEGREE VERDICT IN DRAVES CASE

ruffian from his just fate," declared Edmund Freund, the fiery and youthful assistant prosecutor. "He should be electrocuted and you gentlemen know it."

Sister Collapses
On hearing this, Caroline collapsed and was carried prostrate from the courtroom by her brother, Edward. Another sister, Elsie, fell into the arms of a woman friend and hid her face from the court fans. Feminine spectators broke into sobs. The 20-year-old defendant was like a stoical Indian.

Kirkland had entered the courtroom of Judge Grant Crumpacker with a truculent air. He stared at the middle-aged jurors, mostly farmers who within a few hours will debate whether he is guilty or not guilty of a charge of attacking Arlene and causing her death at an alcoholic party at Gary, November 30.

Freund faced Kirkland as he pronounced his vitriolic attack, following up the argument of Prosecutor John Underwood who asserted the defendant had committed a "fiendish crime" and should be given the maximum penalty.

Mother Buries Face Kirkland's mother gave a cry and buried her head in her husband's shoulder when Freund asserted that "even a wolf wouldn't be so low as to invite others to attack a helpless girl." Four other youths allegedly attacked 18-year-old Arlene the night of the fatal party.

Elmer Draves, the dead girl's father, sat with his head in his hands during Freund's entire address.
Freund drew tears from some of the spectators with his picture of Arlene as an innocent girl victimized "by a boy with the instincts of a raving wolf."

"Gentlemen," the prosecutor said in addressing the jury, "I am a young man too, but I never heard of a man professing to love a girl and yet turning her over to other men to be ruined."

Unnatural Beast
"This defendant is not a man. He is an unnatural beast. If you acquit him, I don't know what excuse you can give your daughters, your sisters and your God. But you won't quit him. You will send him to the electric chair."

Defense Outlined
Ronald Oldham, law partner of Barrett O'Hara, chief defense counsel, followed Freund in addressing the jury.

"I am not going to give you my pet theory of this case or the theory of anyone else," Oldham said. "I am going to give you the facts. I am going to talk to you about Virgil Kirkland and Arlene Draves."

"Gentlemen, this girl was no young unsophisticate. She knew Virgil and he knew her. Didn't he tell the police, as they roughed him around, that 'I didn't have to attack Arlene—we knew each other too well'?"

"I don't want you to forget that. I don't want to speak disparagingly of maidenhood, nor of the dead." Arlene's father, sitting with State's counsel, shut his eyes. They were brimming with tears.

Scene of Party
"Let's go to the scene of this party," Oldham continued. "A boy and a girl in love with each other. Love flourishes, you know, gentlemen, in spite of this age of gin and jazz."
"So then what happened? They drink. Why, I am from Kentucky but I could tell you raw alcohol and swill wine like these children and still keep my senses."

"Yet they drank such concoctions.
Then they fell into each other's arms on a divan in full view of everyone at that party. If Virgil Kirkland intended to attack that girl, he wouldn't have been seen by all their friends in the attitude of love, would he?"

One juror nodded in assent. The jury as a whole gave Oldham the strictest attention. Kirkland was stony. His mother had recovered from an earlier breakdown, but her eyes were red and her lips trembled when she whispered to her husband.

VALPARAISO, Ind., Mar. 10.—
When the summary arguments of the defense and prosecution are ended today the fate of Virgil Kirkland, on trial for the ravish-ment and murder of his 18-year-old fiancee, Arlene Draves, will be placed in the hands of the farmer jury of twelve men.

Defense lawyers were to make their last pleas today for the acquittal of the Gary high school football hero who is charged with murdering the Draves girl at the height of a young people's liquor party last fall.

And the State was to close with a burst of fiery denunciation of Kirkland who was described yesterday by Prosecutor John Underwood as the deliberate despoiler and mur-derer of his one-time sweetheart.

STAR LORE

NENTS

By Arthur DeV. Carpenter.
The theory of the floating of the continents as they rest on sticky fluid bases accounts for the formation of the great mountain ranges.
The Americas broke away from Europe and Africa and slowly drifted westward forcing their way against the bed of the Pacific ocean, causing the crust to fold over, developing the great ranges of the Rocky and the Andes mountains, India, which was pushed up against Asia, folded over and pushed up the Himalaya mountains. Because pressure was not brought to bear upon the areas around the Atlantic ocean its coasts are free from lofty mountain ranges. Then, too, drifting about of the continents explains the climatic changes in the past geological periods.

Implement Dealers Are In Conference

Problems Of Business Conditions Discussed By Implement Dealers

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Mar. 10.—Problems of present business condition were discussed today by the Western Pennsylvania Implement Dealers' association in their third annual business conference here.

H. W. Shearer, New Alexander, president of the association, presided at the sessions as members discussed costs, operations and re-sale price policies.

Conference arrangements were made by a committee including C. G.
Lamb, W. Long, Greensburg; C. A. Phillips,
New Wilmington; C. A. Phillips,
New Wilmington; J. E. Porter, Scottsdale; James P. Huston, Canonsburg; and Frank G. Reamer, Greensburg.

state, county and city police stations. Practically all of the accidents, however, were of a minor nature due to the necessity of driving at slow speed. Roads throughout Western Pennsylvania were in a far more dangerous condition today than were the highways yesterday when driving conditions were described as "the worst of the winter."

Automotive traffic from the Ohio line to the Alleghenies was practically at a standstill, with snow plows held up by heavy drifts. Bus service, far behind schedule, was the only intra-state automotive operation attempted.

Where the roads had escaped the heavy drifts, an ice coating which averaged three inches in thickness covered the highways.

Receding temperatures accompanied the heavy snowfall. The mercury dropped as low as 13 degrees at Greenwood Club, near Bellefonte, and hovered around an average of 20 degrees throughout Western Pennsylvania generally. The snow was of varying intensity in depth, ranging from five inches in Southwestern Pennsylvania to seven inches at Franklin, Warren and Mercer in the northwest portion.

Wife Of Detroit Capitalist Dies

(International News Service)
*RICHARD, Va., Mar. 10.—Oliver
C. Hutchinson, 65, Detroit capitalist, today started home from a trip he thought would provide rest and cheer for his wife and himself.

He was stricken with influenza to days ago when he and his wife were motoring through here to Pinehurst, N. C. Later she developed meningitis and died yesterday.
He was carried to the railroad station today in an ambulance to accompany her body back home.

GENERAL APPROPRIATION BEFORE HOUSE

industrial police bill was also being churned in the legislative hopper today, having been presented by Rep. Wilson, McKean. It provides for appointment of a state industrial force by the superintendent of state police, to be paid in ratio to similar state employees, placed at industrial plants on requisition of industrial officials and their services paid for through the department of revenue.

Many Bills Presented.
The onslaught of bills which enveloped the house last night was slated to continue today. Rep.
Steedle presented a measure appropriating $10,000 for the state's participation in the Yorktown celebration next October and one appropriating $200,000 from the motor license fund to the department of property and supplies for use of the state aeronautics commission for purchase of equipment and emergency landing fields.

Rep. Spann, Allegheny, sponsored a bill authorizing the secretary of highways to light any or all highways in the state.

Approve Bonus Bill.

Sowers and Rep. Turner objected to the house appropriations committee accepting administration measures without accompanying details for the information of members and as a result the bills making deficiency appropriations for the eastern penitentiary and the Harrison state hospital went on the postponed calendar. Bills making appropriations to state college for new buildings and to the department of forests and waters for a deficiency were passed.

The house also approved the storied amendment to the constitution, providing for a soldier's bonus and sent it to the senate. If approved there the proposal will be submitted to a referendum.

The house defeated the first bill of the year when it voted down, 47 to 140, the Fitzgerald bill making the city treasurer the collector of city and school taxes in third class cities.

In order to amend it, the only bill yet to go to the governor was recalled by the lower chamber. The bill is one ceding to the federal government title to a penitentiary site in Union county.

A public hearing was slated today by the lower chamber on the Mus-manno industrial police bill, introduced early in the session.

Deaths of the Day

Mrs. Mornes' Funeral
Funeral services of the late Mrs.
Amelia C. Mornes, widow of A. D.
Mornes, former county court stenographer, were held Monday, March 9, 1931 at 2 p. m. at the family residence, 221 East Falls street with Rev. W. W. Sniff and Rev. G. S.
Bennett, in charge. The services were very largely attended. Mrs.
Mornes having been widely known and greatly loved in a wide circle of friends. Her death creates a vacancy that will be hard to fill.

The ministers in charge in speaking of the deceased brought out the fact that Mrs. Mornes has been one of the pioneers in welfare work here, especially among orphaned and unfortunate children of the district. How for many years, until her health failed, she had worked unceasingly to bring happiness into the lives of many unfortunate children and had been the means of bringing aid and better conditions to many mothers and children.

The pallbearers were Audley Cunningham, Bert Cunningham, O. V.
Douthitt, Edward Hennon, Earl Hennon, and E. Reno. Interment was made in Oak Park cemetery.

Carl DiGiacomo's Funeral
Funeral services of the late Carl Di Giacomo of Arlington avenue, were held this morning at 8:30 o'clock in St. Vitus church. Solemn High Requiem Mass was said with the pastor, Rev. N. DeMita as celebrant. The pallbearers were the Masters Humbert Isabelle, Louis Pagley, Fred Natale and Glio Filgenzi. Interment was made in St.
Vitus cemetery.

Mrs. Conti's Funeral
Funeral of the late Mrs. Mary Conti, wife of Frank Conti of 313
East Division street, was held at 9:00 o'clock Tuesday morning in St.
Vitus church and was very largely attended. Solemn High Requiem Mass was celebrated with Rev. N.
DeMita as celebrant, Rev. V. V.
Stancelewski as deacon and Rev.
Anthony Donatelli as sub-deacon.
The ladies of the Society of Maria
S. S. Adolorata attended the services in a body. Friends of the deceased acted as pallbearers. Interment was made in St. Vitus cemetery.

HOFFMANS HONORED AT HERSHEY DINNER

One of the most delightful events of the season was the dinner given Monday evening in the dining room of the First Presbyterian church for the members of the Hershey chapter and Patterson Circle by their husbands, with Dr. and Mrs. Rolla E. Hoffman and daughters, Elizabeth and Harriet, of Meshed, Persia, as special guests.

The guests assembled in the church parlors and marched down to the dining room, where a beautiful table awaited. This was set in the form of an H, standing for Hoffman, Hershey and Husband. Green and white were the colors used in the appointments and tall green and white tapers were used along the center of the tables, with cut flowers as a background. The after-dinner mints and nuts, in small green baskets, marked each place.

As the guests were seated the merriment began, with Dr. C. G. Green acting as toastmaster. He announced that the women were to be given a surprise in the form of a delicious chicken dinner, and upon this announcement the waitresses marched in, each bearing a covered plate and upon the women investigating it was found a candy "chicken dinner" had been served, along with a beautiful tulip which Dr. Green suggested were the things women liked most.

The pep singing was led by "Red" Williams, who is a past master at this art, with Thomas Webster Jr. at the piano, and this combination could not be resisted by the assembly and they all joined most heartily in the familiar songs.

A most entertaining program of musical numbers, violin solos and amusing repartee was furnished by Messrs. Whittenberg and Thomas. "The Cornhuskers of Youngstown," whose presence was through the courtesy of the Pennsylvania Power Company.

Dr. W. E. McClure, pastor of the church, introduced Dr. and Mrs. Rolla E. Hoffman, who both told of the work being done in the station at Meshed, Persia.

Miss Ruth Sample, on behalf of the Patterson Circle, presented Dr. Hoffman with a personal gift of $25.

Dr. and Mrs. W. E. McClure were included among the special guests.

U. C. T. Will Not Meet.

The ladies' auxiliary of the United Commercial Travelers will not meet on Thursday as announced, with Mrs. Chalmers B. Spruill. They will hold their meeting on March 26.

DR. MARY BAKER TO SPEAK AT MEETING

Mrs. R. G. Bosk was hostess to members of the Current Events club of '23 Monday afternoon at their regular session. Regardless of the undesirable weather, a large number of the ladies and their guests were present to greet the speaker of the day, Mrs. S. E. Crawford, who gave an interesting talk on the Passion Play of 1930. It was a beautiful picture portrayed of this sacred play and was greatly enjoyed by those in attendance.

A large number of towels which had been hemmed by the blind ladies of New Castle were on sale and many were bought by the club associates. This work is being sponsored by the club and it is hoped the people of this vicinity will support it by purchasing a towel.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Miss Eva Donaldson, 21 Pearson street, on Monday, March 23. This section will be in charge of Mrs. C. P. Flannery, chairman of the health committee, and Dr. Mary Baker will be present to give a worthwhile message.

Bertha Girls Meet

Members of the Bertha Girls of the First Methodist church met on Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Anna Carr, Elm street, for the monthly business and social session. Mrs. D. R. McFall presided at the business session and matters of importance to the organization were discussed.

The program was in charge of Mrs. Eleanor Everett, with interesting papers given by Elizabeth Wirsing and Mrs. Maida Ellis.

Mrs. Myrtle Ray and Mrs. Edna Payne assisted the hostess in serving dainty refreshments.

April 13 will mark the date of the next meeting, at the home of Mrs. David Bollard, Delaware avenue.

Date Changed

Members of the W. C. B. class of the Wesley Methodist church will meet Friday evening in the home of Mrs. Fred Kimmell, Elva street, instead of Thursday evening, as announced.

Mrs. James Birt will be assistant hostess.

New Age Group

New New Age Group held their regular meeting in the Leslie parlors Monday evening. A very constructive talk on "Practical Psychology" was given by John Jones, choosing as his subject "Finding Ones Self." A discussion period closed the session.

GRACE PERKINS SPEAKS ST. ANDREWS BANQUET

In observance of the first anniversary of the Girls' Friendly Society of St. Andrews church a banquet was held Monday evening in the church dining room as a means of celebration. Miss Ann Hitchens, branch president, who with her committee so successfully conducted the affair, is due much credit for its complete success.

At 6:30 o'clock members of the society and the special guests, which included Miss Grace Perkins of Sharon, diocesan president of the Girls' Friendly Society of the diocese of Erie, and their guest speaker of the evening, Mrs. William Wignall, Miss Jean Glenn, Benjamin Penry and J. C. Herick, their Sunday school superintendent, were ushered to their places at the beautifully appointed table. Tones of blue and white predominated throughout in the tall tapers, favors containing dainty candles and the bowl of spring flowers which graced the table center. Miss Hitchens and her aides, Mrs. John Hitchens, Mrs. Chauncey Pauline, Miss Josephine Cartwright and Mrs. T. J. Evans, served the sumptuous menu, which was enjoyed by candle light.

A program appropriate to the occasion was later carried out. Little five-year-old Gloria Pauline, who has established a reputation of her own through her splendid recitations, recited "Buddhist Cleanliness" and responded to an encore with "The Dying News Boy."

Miss Perkins, who is an active member in this society, was introduced and gave an exceptionally interesting account of the work of the Girls' Friendly Society in the six chapters which she has charge of throughout this district, and her own group in particular. She explained their purpose as a whole and as individuals, their object and their aim in life and stated that nearly 50,000 were organized throughout the United States. She concluded her talk by presenting the girls with a chart and seal for being members of the G. F. S.

Captain Becker and Mr. Hetrick also responded with fitting words when called upon, telling of the accomplishments during its existence. Preceding the program Miss Frances Davis, secretary, read a complete report of the society, which was approved.

Margaret Shields Class

The Margaret Shields Class of the First Methodist church held their monthly meeting at the home of Miss Sophronia Louer on Delaware avenue Monday evening. Their president Miss Dorothy Boyles had charge of the devotional period, which was followed by a business session. Reports from the secretary and treasurer were heard at this time.

The balance of the evening was spent socially with chat and music. The hostess, assisted by her mother, Mrs. J. W. Louer, served a very delicious repast at a late hour. The menu and table details.

Their next meeting will be held on Monday April 6 at the home of Miss Alice Warner.

Dinner Tuesday

Dinner will be enjoyed on Tuesday evening, March 17, by the members of the Junior Business and Professional Women's club, at the El Patio tea room.

CHOIR HONORS WORTHY MATRON

Mrs. Zella George of Pine street was hostess to the members of the choir of Shenango chapter, No. 333, Order of the Eastern Star, in her home Monday evening, honoring the Worthy Matron, Mrs. Anna Rowland, and Mrs. Jessie Gage, who is leaving soon to make her home in Cleveland, O. Mrs. Estella Weddell, incoming worthy matron, was a special guest.

The home was prettily decorated for the occasion in St. Patrick's Day colors and there were 23 present. The evening was spent informally in games and music. In behalf of the choir Mrs. Mildred Doerr presented Mrs. Rowland with a lovely gift, while Mrs. Thelma Probst presented Mrs. Gage with a farewell memento.

At the close of the evening delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by the committee, Mrs. Dorothy Clark, Mrs. Hannah Thomas and Miss Jean Jackson.

LADIES OF THE LIONS MEET THIS EVENING

Mrs. Josephine Patterson, 702 Wilmington avenue, will be hostess this evening to the Ladies of the Lions club.

Mrs. Marjorie Rogers will read the paper on "Blind Musicians" and "Music is the smile of education" is the quotation for the evening.

Party In Portersville Home

A few friends gathered in surprise fashion at the Forsberg home of Portersville on a recent evening to honor Mrs. Forsberg on her birthday anniversary. The large birthday cake, made and presented by Mrs. Joseph Johnson, graced the center of the beautifully decorated dining table. A very delicious collation was served and enjoyed by candle light.

The remaining hours were pleasantly spent informally with chat and radio music. An added feature was the Spanish dances given by Helen Forsberg. Those present included: M. B. Shafer, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Johnson and daughters Louise and Mabel of New Castle, Mr. and Mrs. Einar Nelson and son Douglas of New Wilmington, Mr. and Mrs. Crawford, Mr. and Mrs. Preble, Misses Webb and Helen Forsberg, Ernest Forsberg, Mr. Forsberg and the honor guest. In departing Mrs. Forsberg's friends wished her many happy returns of the day.

Mothers' Class Meets

Mrs. John Thompson and Mrs. Blanche Gibson were joint hostesses Monday evening, when they entertained members of the Mothers' class of the Primitive Methodist church in the home of the former on Park avenue.

The routine business was transacted after which Mrs. William Muckle took charge of the program. There was chorus singing, Bible questions and answers conducted by Mary Lewis and a reading by Mrs. George Smith.

St. Patrick's day suggestions were cleverly carried out throughout the rooms and in the menu and appointments when the hostesses served a lunch, assisted by Mrs. Sam Blight and Mildred Thompson.

Hart Queen Esthers

The Hart Queen Esthers of the Epworth Methodist church met Monday evening in the home of Mrs. Charles Teets, East Washington street, with the opening devotionals in charge of the hostess.

The lesson study, "Youth and the Movies" was given by Mrs. Stevenson, and the Home mission enigmas were given by different enigmas. At the adjournment of the missionary program a period of recreation was enjoyed and the hostess served refreshments.

The April meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Kenneth Voorhees, Edison avenue.

Bon Accord Club.

The Bon Accord club members met Monday evening at the Y. W. C. A. on Pennsylvania avenue with chat, sewing and games forming pastimes. Plans were completed for a St. Patrick party to be held on Saturday evening, March 14.

At a late hour a dainty lunch was served by Annette Parrare, assisted by Nancy Carvello.

In two weeks Mrs. Clara Creatura will be hostess at their regular meeting place.

The Young People of the Moravia Presbyterian church are giving a program Thursday evening, March 12 at 8 p. m. consisting of home talent plays, recitations, orchestra and vocal numbers. Admission 10 and 20 cents.

MRS. ALBERT TRESER RECEIVES CLUB MONDAY

Members of the Current Events Class were received at the home of Mrs. Albert Treser, on Garfield avenue on Monday afternoon. Current topics were discussed, with Mrs. John Nothdurft and Mrs. Albert Street acting as critics.

During the business transactions, a report was given on the Colonial Tea held by the members in February, and other matters of interest were also brought up.

They will hold their next meeting in two weeks with Mrs. John Whitten on Wallace avenue. Critics on this date will be Miss Alice Richardson and Mrs. Mont Alley.

FIELD CLUB SCENE OF STAG PARTY MONDAY

Monday evening marked another social success on the Field Club calendar, when members gathered for a stag party. L. H. Patterson and N. E. Gustafson proved royal hosts on this occasion, which was well under way at 8 o'clock with the playing of indoor golf. At the close of the game the trophies for low score was awarded Robert E. Long and Dr. W. W. Horner.

At 8:30 o'clock cards were contested in until a late hour. Prizes for this feature were given to W. J. Baer and A. B. Street, while the special honor favor of the evening was presented to W. R. Allen.

The serving of an appetizing lunch closed the event.

In two weeks there will be another Stag affair with C. A. Patterson and Frank F. Hyde acting as hosts.

BUSINESS WOMEN'S LUNCHEON WEDNESDAY

In observance of National Business Women's Week, members of the Business and Professional Women's club of New Castle will meet in the Green Room of the Y. W. C. A., Wednesday at noon, for luncheon.

The members will meet at 2:15 p. m. A short program lasting not more than one hour will be presented, and a prominent person will give a short address.

Junior Business and Professional Women will be guests of the occasion.

Stitch A Bit Club

Miss Elsie Weiss, Bradley avenue, was hostess to the members of the 'Stitch A Bit' Club Monday evening and as a diversion from the usual home meetings she took the members to the "movies."

Following the theatre party, the girls were then escorted to a downtown eating place and here a delicious menu was served.

When the evening's entertainment had been brought to a close the girls voted the evening a most delightful one and returned to their homes to meet again March 23 with Mrs. Leroy Book, 817 Winslow avenue.

Birthday Surprise.

On Saturday evening relatives and neighbors gathered in surprise fashion at the home of Mrs. Grace Gilkey Owens, 1213 Huron avenue, to honor her, the occasion being her birthday.

The hours were pleasantly spent in music and games, with a tasty lunch being served at a suitable time. Green and white tones were used in the menu and table appointments.

During the social period the guest of honor was presented with a collection of many beautiful gifts.

King's Daughters

Miss Dorothy Blinn will entertain members of the Highland King's Daughters in her home on Norwood avenue Thursday evening at 7:30. Jean Book will lead the opening devotionals and the program will feature Negro spirituals. There will be an election of officers.

CURRENT EVENTS '06 HISTORY IS WRITTEN

An interesting meeting of the Current Events of '06 was held at the home of Mrs. George Ramsey on North Mulberry street Monday afternoon with eighteen responding to roll call with an "Irish Joke."

During the business hour, matters of interest were given attention, and at this time a full account of the history of the club was given by a committee comprising Mrs. Ida Robinson, chairman, Mrs. Edwin Rummel and Mrs. H. R. Jamison, all charter members. This article covered a period of twenty-five years interesting work. It will be published at a later date.

Mrs. Rummel is the only member who has remained active at all their sessions since its organization.

The discussion of current topics occupied the remainder of the afternoon.

On March 23 Mrs. G. R. McClelland of 409 Pine street will receive the club.

JEWISH JUNIOR COUNCIL TO MEET

The regular meeting of the Jewish Junior Council will be held on Wednesday, March 11 at the home of Miss Sally Cohen, Winter avenue. This gathering will be of importance, as many plans for the future will be discussed including the completion of the annual dance.

A Purim program will also be carried out.

Guild Names Officers.

Members of the Westminster Guild of the Central Presbyterian church were delightfully entertained Monday evening in the home of Viola Maxwell, Croton avenue, with Martha Swisher as joint hostess.

The business session was taken up with election of officers, which resulted in Gerald Fry being chosen president, Eleanor Lowery vice president, Lillian Campbell secretary and Mary Spence treasurer.

Rehearsal was held for "Janey," a playlet that will be presented in the church on Sunday evening, April 12. Concluding rehearsal the guild members were invited to the dining room, where a sumptuous repast was served at a table prettily appointed in green and white, the place cards and favors being suggestive of St. Patrick's day.

The hostesses were assisted by Mrs. Maxwell and Mrs. Florence Cartwright.

The O. F. B. Club members were pleasantly entertained Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Sarah Barge, on East Washington street. A business meeting was called, and later a social period was enjoyed with informal pastimes. At a selected time, the hostess served a tempting repast with the appointments being carried out in tones suggestive of St. Patrick's day.

Special guests of the evening were Mrs. Perry Barge, mother-in-law of the hostess and Mrs. Campbell.

DEPORTING UNDESIRABLES FROM THIS COUNTRY

ON the theory that it is enough to care for our own worthless residents, the Department of Labor has been engaged in a round-up with the purpose of sending alien undesirables out of the country.

Already over 250 have been taken to Ellis Island to await early deportation. Hundreds more are expected in the near future; and it will not be long before the most flagrant examples are on the way to the lands of their birth. Many of these are medical cases which have become a charge upon the communities in which they have been living, but the hope and expectation is that the net will gather in some of the more notorious gangsters and criminals. Only a few days since, one Voep, said to be the chief lieutenant of Capone, was ordered deported to Italy by the Department of Labor.

This is the kind of national housecleaning that should have hearty approval. In spite of our strict immigration laws a certain number of undesirables manage to get in. It should be the fixed policy of the authorities to deport them as soon as they are found. All sorts of remedies are being proposed for the solution of the crime problem, but very little has been said about deportation as one of the means of ridding the nation of cut-throats and hold-up men.

It is within the power of our officials to deal a deadly blow at crime by means of the deportation route. The more systematically this method is used the better it will be for the nation.

WESTERN DIVORCE LAW RIVALRY DISGRACEFUL

About as disgraceful a situation as has confronted the nation in a long time is being presented at the present time by two or three Western States in their apparent effort to corner "divorce" cases, merely for the purpose of capturing the commercial business that accompanies it.

Laws are being passed by legislatures in order to make the appeal of easy divorce a lure to bring the "business" to their state. Latest move is the action of the Nevada House of Representatives in passing a bill which enables applicants to obtain a decree in forty two days. In itself it is entirely bad enough, but when we are told that it is a move is a fight with other states to obtain all the divorce business that is possible, it becomes infinitely worse.

It is said to be Reno's "answer" to ninety-day laws recently enacted in Arkansas and Idaho. The fact that the lower House of the Legislature passed the bill without debate is further proof that the solons are prompted by the old proverb that "business is business."

It is understood that there was some opposition to the 42-day measure when it was first introduced. But presently a delegation of Reno lawyers and business men appeared at Carson City and assured the legislators that Reno would lose business amounting to over $3,000,000 a year to Arkansas and Idaho "unless immediate steps were taken to meet the competition from these two states for the eastern divorce business." This is a shameful way to treat one of the gravest problems of life. Politicians can hardly be expected to have much consideration for marriage as a sacrament, but surely they should understand its importance as an institution.

No doubt the proceedings will afford the light-hearted opportunities for jesting and wise-cracking at the expense of Reno and those who go there for the purpose of having marital ties sundered. But thinking men and women know that it is a very grave matter, and that if it is not taken more seriously in the near future there will be danger of a break-down in our civilization. The marriage contract can not be treated as a mere scrap of paper without inviting disaster.

FRENCH FOREIGN LEGION

Due to the fact that at least one New Castle youth is known to be serving in the French Foreign Legion at the present time, and has been in this service for several years past, the following tribute to the legion in the Cleveland Plain Dealer will be read with interest by local citizens:

The French Foreign Legion is open to anyone except a Frenchman. Recruiters ask no questions whatever, except the one all important question as to whether the applicant is desirous of fighting. France wishes to know nothing of the past of its legionnaires. The legion is, indeed, made up of unknown men, who for one reason or another wish to be forgotten or considered as dead. But it also has a fine heaven of honorable adventures who join the legion because they wish to fight, and to gain this end are willing even to associate with escaped criminals, assorted plug-uglies, hard-up gentlemen, love-lorn youths, and even anonymous-seeking scions of nobility. Yes, even of royalty. For at one time a German battleship called to take home the body of a cousin of the kaiser who had been killed in battle as a private soldier of the legion.

This week the Foreign Legion is celebrating its 100th birthday, and France is making a great deal of it. It is paying high honor to men none of whom are French except their officers, and is lauding them as fighters as valiant and efficient as any in the world, and perhaps the most reckless. For when a man enlists in the Foreign Legion it is an act of renunciation, equivalent to a declaration of contempt for life.

Many Americans have served in the Foreign Legion, and doubtless many are serving now. But no one can know, for the French war ministry itself desires to know nothing. In the Foreign Legion individualities are extinguished, and men become mere fighting units. Which is what they desire, and what the French government desires, so everyone is satisfied. That is, unless a legionnaire happens to run amuck, and then the trouble is terrible.

Many a true word has been said in jest, but few in politics.

Chairman Raskob was one month late with his groundhog stunt.

It takes a lot of hard practice to give some girls that charming naturalness.

The only fellow overlooked in the $10,000,000,000 congress was John Smith, taxpayer.

One reason why living costs more is because affixing a patch is no longer an art.

Now that congress is adjourned Muscle Shoals can't even be used for operating windmills there.

Somebody ought to see some sort of an omen in the fact that as congress receded a tidal wave swept in.

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 6:00. Sun rises tomorrow 6:21.

Former U. S. Senator James A. Reed gave a newspaper photographer a sock in the jaw in Kansas City the other day. It beats all how belligerent a man becomes after he gets into congress.

A Vandergrift, Pa., woman has caused the arrest of two men for sending her a dead rat through the mails. Maybe the rat was alive when it was mailed and the poor thing starved to death.

Old Dobbin had faults, but you never went out on a cold morning and found a dozen cracks in him.

Among the objections to the direct primary are Senators.

Babies Born March 12, 1931

The Hints and Dints Man, will, as has been his custom for many years, give Five Dollars to Every Baby born on his birthday, Thursday March 12, 1931. Proof of birth must be presented in The News office on or before March 23rd, 1931. Ten Dollars for twins and even more in proportion for more. This is only for babies born in Lawrence county. Every year the Hints and Dints Man gets letters asking for the $5 from people who were born on March 12 years ago, one writing at one time who was nearly a hundred years old. This is only for the little folks seeing the light of day for the first time next Thursday, March 12.

A communist is said to be a fellow who is willing to divide something he hasn't got, if the other fellow will divide what he has got. A sort of a 50-50 proposition.

People don't delight in scandal itself, but merely in the contrast that calls attention to their own virtue.

These people who say you always get what you pay for never tried paying for alienated affections.

"Where will you live?" the reporter asked the young bride. "At the old manse," replied the bride.

And so the newspaper account of the wedding read: "Mr. Hardup and his bride, the former Miss Millions, have returned from their honeymoon. They will live with the bride's father."

What the manly art of self-defense needs more than anything else is a little offense.

It's fair enough. At 20 she makes a fool of a man; at 30 she makes a man of a fool.

Yet people who never do wrong seldom discover how narrow the world is.

A Frenchman asserts that few Americans know anything about soup, but that is not so. We know some men who love soup so much they even carry it about on their vests.

President Hoover is quoted as saying "No country is rich enough to do an injustice," and we presume right then is when he vetoed the soldiers' bonus bill.

But why expect Willie to believe history, written a thousand years after the event, when you can't even tell him the facts about present-day Russia?

It beats all what people will steal nowadays. A short time ago some thieves walked into a crossing watchman's shanty at Mineola, N. Y., and stole the watchman's stove, red-hot coals and all. Must have been a fire-eater.

The Gypsies Come!
Trailing to Their Old Adventure—Romance!

By MARSHALL MASLIN

Around the town, up and down Main street, in and out of the houses, through every disciplined school room, the word would fly. And every small boy in his home town would hear it and everyone of them would brighten up and his eyes would sparkle and he'd know what he was going to do that afternoon, the minute school was out.

What was that word, what was the news that made a small boy's eyes shine and the blood race all through him and sent a shiver along his spine? Perhaps you're too old, but I hope you'll never be too old to know what it used to mean to small boys when they heard the Gypsies had come to town.

I'll admit it: The Gypsies weren't Nice People. They were dark and they dressed differently and their eyes flashed and they were dirty and they stole when they could and they trespassed on other folk's land and they talked an outlandish lingo. But they were color and romance and strange beings from unknown trails and they brought wildness into little settled hearts.

We weren't supposed to have anything to do with them, with those Gypsies. We were told they might Steal Us, they might Stink a Knife Into Us. You could never tell what a Gypsy would do.

But we couldn't keep away from them. We'd follow them down the street and into stores and out again. We'd hear them telling fortunes. . . . We were fascinated.

A flash of color down the street, three graceful figures in orange and red and blue and green—and away would fly all Obedience, all memory of What Mother Said. And sooner or later we'd find ourselves trailing out the road that led to the creek where the Gypsies were camped.

And there we'd hang around till the sun went down and fires were lit and the darkness crept close and we ran, breathless, home to supper, with our cheeks flushed and our memories full of vague aches and dreams.

Those dark fellows with gold rings in their ears, those slim girls with black braids, even those grand mothers and those sturdy mothers who nursed their babies at their great breasts—right before our half-ashamed eyes!—were Gypsies.

They'd been places, too, and they'd seen things. . . . They owned hardly anything. They had no chores, they had neither possessions nor obligations, and they charmed for days upon days after they had cracked and shouted their way into memory. I've grown older. I hardly think I'd look about a Gypsy campfire now, and I don't believe I did about the romance of vagabondage—but I still envy those youngsters who went mad when the Gypsies came to town. Because those Gypsies are still a splash of glamor to me, and their fires still gleam through the thicket of the years, and I'm glad I saw Gypsies when I was a boy.

Quoting Dr. Gilbert Grosvenor, president of the National Geographic Society, as saying there is doubt "whether there has been a comparable feat since Livingstone and Stanley traversed the unknown heart of Africa," the DAYTON DAILY NEWS comments: "The Arabian desert is almost the exact geographic and population center of the Old World. Commercial activities have hummed everywhere about it, but this vast wilderness of sand, some 600 miles across, has gone unexamined. The very circumstances suggest the hazards and difficulties which confronted Mr. Thomas. Several explorers had previously attempted what he finally accomplished, only to turn back and admit failure. The vacant spot in the map of Arabia may now be filled in with symbols significant of another human advance into unknown territory. The achievement gives Mr. Thomas a high rank in the annals of adventure."

"The geographical world particularly will wait with much interest Mr. Thomas' report on his journey through the region," in the opinion of the SCRANTON TIMES, which declares as to the difficulties involved: "Tribes living on the border of the desert have been openly hostile for generations to exploration of the great waste by Europeans. Thomas had to make his plans with the greatest secrecy. The wild Bedouins who infest the region are highly superstitious about the desert which, according to local tradition, also has been used by robbers and other fugitives from justice in escaping the authorities."

"The tribes are Ishmaelites of the first order," records the CHARLESTON W. VA. DAILY MAIL, "and their hand is still against all others as in the days when the Hebrew nationalists in the far past described the characteristics of the descendants of the twelve sons of Ishmael, son of the outcast Hagar. The Arabs still claim that these twelve sons of Ishmael were heads of the original Arabian tribes. Any attempt to penetrate the secrets of the desert which the tribes refuse to withhold is not only dangerous, but nearly an impossibility. But explorer Thomas was well equipped for the work. He is an Arabian scholar, knows the languages of the Arabian tribesmen, the meaning of their words and their shades of meaning. He is well acquainted with Arab customs, and then, most of all perhaps, he has a wonderful art of adaptation without which mere knowledge would be vain."

"He blazed a trail that may lead to the discovery of matters of large interest to archeologists and geologists," states the BUFFALO EVENING NEWS, with the comment on the results: "The world now knows that a great salt lake seven miles long lies in the dead heart of Arabia; that dead and animal life of distinctive species and a few nomad tribes of men still hover in the vast sandy stretches, and that sea-shell fossils lie on the sands far inland. It is thought that a legendary city, Ubar, a lost Atlantis of prehistoric Arabia, may lie buried in the desert sands, which natives believed were ghosts sighing over the ruins of an ancient city, were a natural phenomenon caused by the wind whistling like a siren among the cliffs of sand."

emphasizes the PROVIDENCE BULLETIN, in the course of a review of the explorer's report, and the ROCHESTER TIMES-UNION concludes: "It is doubtful if Mr. Thomas' discoveries will prove of any commercial use. The 'lost city of Ubar' may be purely legendary among the Arabs. Still, he has added to human knowledge of the world's surface, and by his daring exploit risen to a niche safe in the explorers' hall of fame."

The "New Yorker" says that it has been informed of an apparently authentic adventure of two prohibition agents and a taxi driver with an opinion of his own and the state's sense with which taxi drivers are reputed to be endowed.

Posing as strangers in New York, the government men asked the cabman to take them to a place where they could buy a drink. He smiled pleasantly when they winked a couple of times, and nodded knowingly.

The cab started uptown. It passed Columbus Circle, going out Br. way. It passed Seventy-second street. It passed Ninety-sixth street. It suddenly would have passed a lot more streets if the agents hadn't gotten apprehensive and yelled: "Hey, where you taking us?"

"To Canada," the driver said briefly.

Desert Exploration Revives Old Romance In Machine Age

Blank Spot On Map Of World May Be Cleared Up As Result Of Hazardous Trip In Arabia, According To American Comments

In the reports of Betram Thomas, English traveler, who penetrated the Arabian peninsula between the Red Sea and the Gulf of Oman, the public reads anew the romance and adventure of the primitive explorer. America comments emphasize the unusual task he accomplished in the face of great peril with the camel as his only means of transportation in an age when most exploration is done with all the aids and comforts of the airplane and the automobile. "One of the most fascinating spots on the map," according to the SPRINGFIELD (MASS.) REPUBLICAN, "has been the great white space that fills most of the southern half of the Arabian peninsula. So few remain of these mysterious blank places in the map of the world that the lover of romance may almost regret having the sun sullied. But since in any case it could not much longer have stayed intact as a playground for fancy, even the lover of romance may be grateful that its mystery has been dispelled in so admirably romantic a way. It is marvelous that the intrepid explorer, Betram Thomas, came through the desert alive; it is almost more astonishing that he should have had the chance in an age when flying machines so lightly skim over sandy plains, frozen seas and tundra bogs. The great days of exploration are almost over; we may congratulate ourselves on being able to share in the thrills of so splendid an exploit in the grand style. Aviation will be needed, presumably, to complete the exploration of the Dahna desert, or Rubel el Khali, which Mr. Thomas has been the first of explorers to cross."

"His achievement is the more remarkable," says the ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH, "for being accomplished without the new implements bestowed on the explorer by the machine age." That airplane or dirigible or tractor car for Thomas was served by the camel, friend of explorers lured to wander over sandy wastes since the days of Marco Polo." The BALTIMORE SUN holds that "what Thomas did and saw in 'the habitat of ostrich and antelope' appears, even in scanty detail, to have been of vast interest." That paper concludes: "That it was an extremely brave and useful exploit experts have already testified

Senate Will Get Back To Work On Passing Of Bills

Senate Postpones Utilities Probe Until Wednesday—Work Piles Up

SENATOR MCCLURE OFFERS MEASURE

Plan To Resume Probe Of Rate Structures Of Several Small Companies

By WILLIAM B. BROWN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Mar. 10.—Anxious to break the jam of legislative work which has piled up in the cross currents of investigation the senate committee will postpone until tomorrow its probe of the public service and the utilities.

With the interest in the so-called side shows overtopping that of the sessions itself, not only on the part of the public but of the members themselves, legislative leaders have determined to put through as speedily as possible, the real work before them.

The first and only definite outcome of the weeks of investigation was the introduction last night by Senator John J. McClure, Delaware, of a measure providing for a people's counsel bureau in the department of justice. The measure is one of a number to follow which will exemplify what the senate committee believes should be done to improve the public service law.

Free Legal Service

McClure's measure provides, in effect, free legal service for any municipality which believes any proposed schedule of a public utility company to be unjust and unreasonable. The services of the bureau would be offered to any city, borough, town, township, school district or poor district but not to individuals who might have disagreements with public utilities. The bureau would have full power to use the services of the engineers and rate experts of the public service commission in preparing a case for presentation.

In a session tomorrow the senate committee will continue its inquiry into the rate structures of several of the small electric companies which Governor Pinchot has accused of making an unfair return on their investments.

Subpoenas have been issued for the reports made by each of the companies to the department of revenue. Committee members intend to check the reports made by each for state taxation purposes against the figures given in their public service commission records for rate making purposes.

Joyce Gives Testimony

The majority of the session yesterday was devoted to hearing Coleman Joyce, Philadelphia P. R. T. official, give the details of his salary, profit sharing payments and bonuses since he joined that company in 1919. Two special fees, in addition to salary, of $50,000 each and one of $150,000 had been paid it was brought out. The P. R. T. also paid Joyce's income tax on the $150,000 fee. After he had wrangled for more than an hour, he asserted and W. A. Gray, the Governor's counsel agreed, that the average salary for the entire period had been about $50,000 a year.

"I earned it and am worth it today," said Joyce.

"Maybe to mitten," countered Gray.

In the investigation of the Natrona Electric Company, operating in Allegheny county, it was developed that according to the report with the commission it had earned 69 percent in 1929 as Governor Pinchot charged.

The company merely transmits current, buying it from the Pennsylvania Salt Water Company. It has a flat rate of five cents per kilowatt hour.

Hawks Commences Flight To Texas

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Mar. 10.—Capt. Frank Hawks, air speedster, hopped off from Curtiss field at 7:16 a. m. today for Atlanta, Ga., which he plans to make his only stop on a trip to Houston, Tex.

Hawks arrived at the field before mechanics and employees had reported for work and skimmed off.

He flew the monoplane in which he has established several speed records, expecting to reach Houston, 1,500 miles distant, before nightfall. Wichita, Kan., will be visited by Hawks after his flight to Houston, and a return flight to Boston will be made.

RIVALS FOR AGE RECORD

(International News Service)

CHESTER, Conn., Mar. 10.—Rivalry among Middlesex county towns over the number of octogenarians has spread until now this town claims the leadership with a total of 22 individuals who have passed the 80-year mark. Durham, with 17 in a population of 1,000, claimed the championship until Chester advanced the point of having 22 in a population of less than 1,500.

Believe Robbery Motive In Murder

Elk County Officials Start Investigation Into Lower's Death

MAN IS FOUND DEAD IN CABIN

(International News Service)

RIDGWAY, Pa., Mar. 10.—Robbery today was established by county detectives as a possible motive for the brutal murder of James Lower, whose bruised and battered body was found frozen in his little home on the outskirts of the city.

Lower was known to have carried large sums of money on his person at various times and police believe this fact is a significant clue in the solution of the man's death.

An autopsy was performed on the victim's body yesterday afternoon by Dr. J. G. Flynn, deputized by the Elk county coroner, S. T. McCabe. Dr. Flynn reported that Lower met his death from a fracture of the skull at the right temple caused by the impact of a blunt instrument.

Coroner McCabe announced that a formal inquest would be held on Wednesday evening.

The day of the man's murder was set as last Thursday, since which time Lower had failed to appear at work. The body, already beginning to decompose, was found yesterday morning by Burgess C. L. Park and Otto Claus, foreman of the Elk Tanning company, where Lower was employed. Claus became alarmed when the employee, who had a record of ten years' work at the tannery, failed to appear for duty.

Deputy Sheriff Joseph A. May and County Detective Leo Werner, aided by several other local and county officials, are conducting the investigation.

Gibbs Services Draw To Close

This Marks Last Week Of Interesting Messages Being Given In Baptist Church

"Every unsaved person is the 'certain man who went down from Jerusalem to Jericho,'" asserted Evangelist Alfred P. Gibbs last night at the First Baptist church. He said in part: "The certain man turned his back upon the city of peace and blessing and journeyed down to the city of the curse, a fitting picture of the course of every person by nature. The world, the flesh and the devil, like thieves lie in wait and rob the sinner of innocence, character, opportunity and soul, and then leave him half dead. Legalism and ritualism, like the priest and Levite, come by but can give no salvation. The Good Samaritan, a man rejected and despised, is a wonderful picture of the Lord Jesus Christ, who alone can save the wounded and destitute sinner by His wondrous grace." The message was illustrated by beautifully colored lantern slides.

The musical feature was a mixed quartet, "Under His Wings," which was beautifully rendered by Mr. and Mrs. Roy Griffith and Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Brown.

This evening Mr. Gibbs will speak on the subject, "The One Way In." A prize will be awarded to the largest family present, composed of parents and children. Wednesday evening Mr. Gibbs will give another lantern lecture on "The Ten Virgins."

Allegheny River Association Has Banquet Monday

Reiterate Stand That French Creek Route For Canal Most Feasible

(International News Service)

OIL CITY, Mar. 10.—Members of the Allegheny River Improvement Association today were on record with the reiteration of their former stand that the French creek route is the most feasible for an Ohio River-Lake Erie canal.

More than 200 members of the association, representing a host of Allegheny Valley towns were present at a banquet of the association held here last night.

Reports rendered at the meeting tended to show that steady progress has been made in slackwatering the Allegheny and providing greater navigable distances for river traffic.

Congressman Strong told members of the organization that United States Engineers had been convinced of the necessity of constructing dams in the Allegheny and declared that the work would go forward until the huge proposed program is completed.

Other speakers on the program included Congressman Thomas Cochran, of Mercer; Milton W. Shreve, of Erie; and N. L. Strong, of Brookville.

Seek Jury In Case Against Negro For Killing Of Sheriff

Hope To Complete Jury Today At Bucyrus, Ohio, In Ralls' Trial

(International News Service)

BUCYRUS, O., Mar. 10.—Completion of the jury to try Blandon Ralls, Negro, for the murder of Sheriff George Davenport, was expected today, after which a trial is scheduled for the deliberators to the home of Elijah Ralls, where the shooting occurred the night of January 23.

As the trial for Ralls got under way, court overruled a motion by the defense for a change of venue on the grounds that the defendant could not get a fair trial in this county.

An identical motion was overruled in the trial of Blandon's cousin, Walter, last week, who was found guilty of first degree murder for the same shooting.

Motion for a new trial for Walter Ralls will not be heard until after the trial of Blandon, it was indicated.

Prompt Delivery Reflects Mild Winter

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Ill., Mar. 10.—Reflecting unusually mild winter weather, Chicago's package car freight delivery system registered an "on time" mark of 96.71 per cent during January of this year, in comparison with the figure of 90.27 per cent for the same month in 1930, according to a report of the Transportation Department of the Chicago Association of Commerce.

The "on time" mark of 96.94 per cent established last December offers further evidence of ideal winter shipping conditions in the Chicago area.

During January of this year, a total of 49,709 cars were checked, with the results showing 48,075, or 96.71 per cent arriving at their destinations on time. A total of 1,338, or 2.69 per cent were one day late, white only 298, or .60 per cent were late by more than one day.

In January, 1930, cars more than one day late totaled 1,379, or 2.46 per cent.

Learn English To Talk To School Boys

(International News Service)

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Mar. 10.—There is an English for motorist violators of traffic laws, but there is an entirely different English for Rochester school boys. Three city policemen are now going to school here, learning how to talk to the boys.

Before Patrolmen Joseph Baglin, Albert Daniels and Elmer A. Irish of the traffic squad begin their lectures to safety patrols and junior police in the public schools, decided the police chief, they must know public speaking—an entirely different public speaking from the kind they administered to reckless drivers and left turn artists.

Off to school he sent them, to learn English as it should be spoken to school boys. They're learning it in the Y. M. C. A. school here.

STATE PROBES TO ASK FOR FUNDS FOR WORK

(From News Bureau)
HARRISBURG, Pa., Mar. 10.—

Convinced that investigations cannot get far without some money to finance them, the house and the senate may get together and pass appropriation bills for each of the investigating committees which are now functioning. In the house Monday night, Representative Ellwood J. Turner presented a resolution calling for $25,000 for the house committee, and it is expected the senate will ask for a similar amount.

Early in the session when the idea of investigations first was considered, the house refused to consider an appropriation for the senate committee, and the senate refused to ask the house to take part in its investigation. The result was two separate investigations, functioning without funds for counsel, expenses and the like.

The senate time for investigation expires in another week, but it is probable that an addition will be asked for. This committee has tentatively decided to recommend legislation which will give the Public Service Commission authority over the issuance of stock sales for utility companies, recommend that the commission hold in abeyance any rate increases until the consumer has been heard, and also will recommend a strengthening of the Public Service act.

The house committee has not yet held enough hearings to determine what their recommendations will be. On Wednesday the boroughs of the state will be heard and on Thursday the cities will appear. In both hearings representatives of the boroughs and cities are expected to tell their dealings with the Public Service Commission, and with the utilities.

REDUCE PRICES

Kotex fits inconspicuously and it is soft, comfortable, disposable

KOTEX keeps you free of self-consciousness at times when sanitary protection is necessary. It is skillfully shaped to fit securely. It absorbs five times more than surgical cotton—absorbs away from the surface, not in one concentrated area. This method of lateral absorption leaves your protection dry and comfortable far longer than the ordinary pad.

It may be worn on either side with equal protection. There is no chance of getting it adjusted wrong—no possibility of embarrassment.

Kotex has not merely an apparatus of softness, but a lasting softness. It is treated to deodorize effectively. Hospitals use quantities of Kotex and also the soft absorbent material of which it is made. Kotex is disposable, as you know, quickly, easily—first of all its advantages over old-time methods.

The Parent Problem

by GARRY C. MYERS, Ph.D.

What Should Parents Do If Lad Uses Bad Language?

By GARRY C. MYERS, Ph.D.
Head Division Parental Education, Cleveland College, Western Reserve University.

"Dear Mr. Myers: About four years ago I took your pre-school child parental course, and I want to say that the principles, as you outlined them and defined them, have been of invaluable help to me and Mrs. —

It gave me something solid and constructive upon which to base my attitude toward our children. We now have two boys, one 3½ years, the other 15 months. At the time I went to your evening classes the first one was on the way.

"But there is a definite problem with which we are faced concerning our boy, the older. He picks up words readily, and has the knack of inverting his own; strange words, long and funny sounding. Recently he played with a youngster who swore like a trooper. It wasn't long after when he came into the house and with deep relish would call things he disliked 'dirty'. He even applied it to both of us parents.

"We have ignored it so far, acting on the idea that the word not being recognized may pass from his vocabulary. He uses it less frequently now, but when exasperated it bursts out with vehemence. Mother at times feels like using a little drastic action and applying the soap method on his mouth. She has already told him that it is a word we do not use, neither daddy nor mother. He chirps back and says, 'But it's all right for me!'

Answer: How fine it is to hear from you and to know that you have had some help from my feeble efforts. What a fine little family you have.

The little problem you present is the kind that often puzzles me. I believe that if you don't get results by ignoring the matter for several weeks that you had better shift your plans. Anyway, it seems to me that you should discriminate between the bad words for mere emotional expression, particularly enthusiastic outbursts, and naughty words toward an individual. When he calls you or anyone else an ugly name, I think you have a definite cause for punishment, regardless of the name. It is the attitude that is most important.

I don't think much of the soap method, although it may work. I think if, on the next time when he calls you or any other adult an ugly name, that a good, vigorous spank on his bare bottom immediately and for every offense thereafter would do the trick. "Don't talk to me that way," is about all you ought to say at the time.

I wish you would write me of your further experiences and successes.

Peter's Adventures

PETER PROVES HIS POINT "If you want to give your secrets away, I suppose I, too, may as well," declared Granther Greybeard, "Although I must say Daddy, I thought you had better sense."

"I've got as much sense as you have," shrieked Daddy Long Legs and shook his antennae at Granther. It wouldn't be long now before the two took to fighting again. Hastily Peter stepped between them. "I asked you what time you started each day for your work?" the boy repeated his question, looking straight at Daddy Longlegs.

"I leave my home promptly at 2 o'clock in the afternoon," answered Daddy. "I am sure of the time for I wait until the wild daisies are widest open."

"That is precisely the moment I set forth!" admitted Granther.

Greybeard. "If you ask me I think two o'clock in the afternoon is the pleasantest time in the whole day."

"Right!" agreed Daddy Longlegs.

"And do you two always meet right at this very spot?" demanded Peter.

"Right at this very spot," declared the two insects in chorus. "It is exactly half-way between our two homes."

"Then can't you see that if both of you leave at precisely the same moment, daisy time, and arrive at the half-way spot at exactly the same time, both of you must travel at exactly the same speed to cover the same space in the same time?" Peter chuckled.

"By jimmies crickets, you're right!" cried the insects.

Seven Injured As Result Of Crashes On Snowy Highways

Seven In Connellsville District Injured In Two Accidents

(International News Service) CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., Mar. 10.—Seven persons were recovering from injuries today as a result of two crashes of motor vehicles on the snow-covered highways in the district.

M. A. Chermitsky, his two children, Thomas and Dorothy, and George Warnick, a guest, were injured when the car in which they were riding crashed into a street car. All sustained lacerations and bruises. Anna Mysko, 15 and Sophia Hudzy, 15, both of Connellsville, sustained lacerations about the chest and limbs when the automobile in which they were riding with the latter's father overturned.

Closing the program a social period was enjoyed and refreshments were served cafeteria style from a table, beautifully centered with a huge bowl of jonquils, with tall yellow and green tapers surrounding it.

This part of the program was in charge of the hospitality committee: Mrs. Harriett Sadler, Mrs. H. C. Warner, Mrs. L. L. Thompson, Miss Flora Treser, Mrs. Percy Walls and Miss Eva Smith.

The March meeting of the association was held in the Highland school with Mrs. Robert Magill in the chair. The association voted to give the school $50 for the purpose of buying costumes for the playlets and other things necessary for the school, which are not included in the budget.

Lawrence L. Thompson led a period of pep singing, which the assembly entered into with spirit. Miriam Harris was at the piano.

Miss Pearl Hutchinson, a teacher in the school, then entertained with humorous reading, "At the Baseball Game." Her offering was received with gusts of laughter and much applause.

Miss Alma Locke, chairman of the program committee then introduced the speaker of the evening, Rabbi J. B. Menkes.

Rabbi Speaks

His address was of a most scholarly, thorough and scientific nature, which showed much thought and research into his subject. He compared mental health with physical health and said that the attitude of people toward health today was so different from days gone by. Health is a great factor in life and under present conditions is largely within our control, that is the physical health; but mental hygiene is still behind the times; we associate mental ill health with an unknown force but mental ill health creates more devastation than physical ill health and this is caused by the emotional disorganization, not being able to establish the right kind of relationship between the emotions and other forces.

He went on to take up the fundamental instincts that are found in the mind and said that training a child means the co-ordination of these instincts. We must in bringing the child up, not sacrifice the child's feelings and instincts to bring out prompt obedience; courtesy and kindness are the greatest factors in balancing the emotions and controlling the fundamental instincts and this is the work of the parents, first, and when the child passes from the home into the school, then it must be taken up by the teachers.

"Teaching a child to do a thing Rabbi Menkes said, "and making him do it is vastly different. His personality and natural instincts must not be killed, but adjusted to the proper balance."

He closed his address by giving a list of books that are most helpful to parents in the solution of problems in regard to the proper handling of the child questions.

Mrs. Robert Magill then asked Daniel Woolcock, president of the school board, who was present, to say a few words, and he briefly spoke of the splendid work being done in the schools by the teachers and officers, and especially commended the janitors of the various buildings for the repair work they have done and saved the school board a lot of money in this time of depression.

S. G. Ligo, superintendent of buildings and equipments was also in the audience and spoke briefly in commendation of the schools and the co-operation of the teachers and principals and the work being done by the P. T. A.

Closing the program a social period was enjoyed and refreshments were served cafeteria style from a table, beautifully centered with a huge bowl of jonquils, with tall yellow and green tapers surrounding it.

This part of the program was in charge of the hospitality committee: Mrs. Harriett Sadler, Mrs. H. C. Warner, Mrs. L. L. Thompson, Miss Flora Treser, Mrs. Percy Walls and Miss Eva Smith.

The March meeting of the association was held in the Highland school with Mrs. Robert Magill in the chair. The association voted to give the school $50 for the purpose of buying costumes for the playlets and other things necessary for the school, which are not included in the budget.

Lawrence L. Thompson led a period of pep singing, which the assembly entered into with spirit. Miriam Harris was at the piano.

Miss Pearl Hutchinson, a teacher in the school, then entertained with humorous reading, "At the Baseball Game." Her offering was received with gusts of laughter and much applause.

Miss Alma Locke, chairman of the program committee then introduced the speaker of the evening, Rabbi J. B. Menkes.

United States And Canada Near Accord On Waterway Project

Important St. Lawrence Waterway Project May Be Agreed Upon

New Minister From Ottawa Expected To Hasten Agreement In Washington

By PIERCE MILLER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Mar. 10.—A treaty between the United States and Canada on the St. Lawrence waterway project, discussed for several years, appeared actually in sight today, with the probability that when the new minister from Ottawa, William D. Herridge, arrives, he will press matters to a conclusion.

Herridge, often referred to in Canada as the Colonel House of the Bennett administration, is now arranging his personal affairs, but no word has been received here as to when he will present his credentials.

Both the Canadian and American governments consider the St. Lawrence waterways question the most pressing between the two countries, and despite the mystery surrounding the recent visit of Premier Bennett to Washington, it is known that subject formed the more important feature of his conference with President Hoover.

The status of the treaty negotiations is that the United States is awaiting receipt from Ottawa of a treaty draft on the basis of a preliminary agreement reached by American Minister MacNider with the Canadian government.

BRITAIN STILL LEADS WORLD TRADE NAVIES

By F. A. WRAY
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Mar. 10.—Despite the intense and rapidly increasing competition of other mercantile nations, Britain still claims to be supreme in the ship-building world.

Shipping launched by Great Britain and Ireland last year represented 51.2 of the world's output. This is, however, a significant decrease on the year 1929, when the British output was 54.5 per cent of the world's tonnage.

In the great race for production in 1930, the United States was second in the list with 246,687 tons launched. Germany was a close third with 245,557 tons and Holland next with 153,072 tons.

The total world tonnage launched was 2,889,472—representing 1,084 vessels. Britain was responsible for 1,478,563 tons and the rest of the world for 1,410,909.

The shipbuilding output of the future is not bright, according to Lloyd's Register, and it would appear that the shipbuilding yards of Britain and Ireland are affected to a greater degree than any other country.

Stands Second In State Contest

Grove City College Girl Wins High Honors In Oratorical Contest

GROVE CITY, Mar. 10.—Dorothy Turnbach of Grove City College winner of the college oratorical contest here placed second in the state contest of Saturday at Meuhlenberg College, Allentown. Mackey Menck of that college was named state champion. He will go to Kentucky this month to contest in an interstate elimination trials that enters the champion in the finals for national honors at Evanston Illinois in April.

Third in the Allentown contest was John Lenz of Ursinus College and fourth was Dorothy Hoffman of Thiel. Prof. H. McBurrows head of the college forensic committee and Miss Mariam Franklin of the department of public speaking accompanied the local orator.

SEEK POST OFFICE SITE

President Herbert Hoover has signed the omnibus bill carrying an appropriation of $120,000 for a Grove City postoffice to be started at once is the announcement of Congressman T. C. Cochran.

Tenders on local property for a site will be asked at once, the representative states. Sufficient money to purchase the site has already been appropriated and the balance is expected with the drawing of plans for the office which takes place after site selection. The office built here will be in keeping with the town's progress, Cochran assures local men.

WELCOME SNOWFALL

Farmers of this community welcome the 6 inch snow fall of the week end with the same gratitude they would a heavy downpour of rain. It is said the drought condition will be greatly relieved as a result.

With highways clogged local garages report no accidents beyond cars skidding into ditches.

PLAN SUMMER TERM

The summer term of Grove City College starts on June 22nd and lasts for six weeks is the today announcement of Dr. N. C. Ketter. The term will offer courses in all the academic subjects that are taught during the two semesters of college work and in addition there will be a school in pedagogy calculated to advance any teacher desiring to secure a permanent certificate.

This school will be in charge of Dr. J. W. Sweeney of Elk County who has headed this work here for 20 summers.

TO FEED BIRDS

Forced feeding of birds during this period of snow which is the heaviest downfall of the winter will be necessary to conserve game says Game Warden O. A. Perschka.

Grain for this purpose may be obtained from Ben McNesh. The period is the most dangerous of the winter and wild life league members are urged to assist during the time that vegetation is covered with snow.

Dentist To A Harem

American, Who Pulls Teeth For Sultan Of Morocco And His Many Wives, Tells How They Live And Get Along

THE SULTAN manages so many wives because he keeps them all jealous of each other

SOMETIMES the favorite is harshly treated by the other wives

By EDWIN PRYOR
Central Press Correspondent
WICHITA, Kas., Mar. 10.—Official dentist to his Royal Highness the Sultan of Morocco—and his Royal Highness' harem!

That's the enviable position held by Dr. Frank Bostwick of Gibraltar, Spain, who deserted his pleasant duties recently to pay a visit to Dr. J. F. Kernan, Wichita dentist and former classmate of his.

And Dr. Bostwick has accumulated many bits of wisdom from the manner in which the sultan keeps his wives happy—pointers which might help American men who experience difficulty in keeping just one life partner happy, or which might have just the opposite effect.

"How does the sultan manage so many wives? Well, he keeps them all jealous of each other," said Dr. Bostwick. "And it seems to work out very well."

One Favorite Wife
"He always has a favorite wife or concubine—one that particularly pleases him because of her beauty, character, kindness, or other traits he admires. And immediately he has settled upon a favorite, all his other wives try to emulate her, to copy the mannerisms and traits which have won his favor. It's a sure method of keeping them all clever and interesting."

"Would it work in this country, where a man is allowed just one wife? Well, you'll have to answer that question for yourself."

Fear Apt To Be Created By Health Discussions, Thinks Dr. Clendening

Of Repeated Statement That Ordinary Ill Leads To Graver Disease Quite Without Foundation

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

One of the dangers of any kind of health talk is the creation of fear. I agree with the Christian Scientists, at least to this extent, that fear is an actual cause of disease—mental and spiritual, if not bodily.

It is very easy for health writers to fall into this habit. They feel the necessity of emphasizing their point, and there is no better way to do it than to call on the emotions and imagination of their audience. And no emotion is more potent than fear, and no emotion more powerful in arousing imagination.

Particularly dangerous is this practice if there is nothing to be done about the situation after the fear has been aroused. This is why this column says very little about cancer and gives very little support to the propaganda of the Society for the Prevention of Cancer.

An illustration of all this is the commonest heard remark that "A cold is not a minor ailment." Now this is a silly pronouncement. If there is any disease on the face of the earth that is a minor ailment, the common cold is the best example of it. I am aware that it causes a considerable amount of economic loss by keeping many people from work. But that is because it is common, not because it is dangerous. I know that it leads the list of diseases which cause disability and absence from work in an industrial community. But that does not make it a source of real danger.

The often repeated statement that a cold leads to graver disease is almost utterly without foundation. As is the warning that a neglected cold is fraught with hideous possibilities. Pneumonia is never a sequel of a cold. If pneumonia occurs, it is pneumonia from the beginning. And far from preparing the ground for pneumonia, the immunity reaction given to the body by an attack of cold actually tends to prevent a person from catching pneumonia.

That colds lead to tuberculosis is an equally fallacious piece of reasoning. Tuberculosis may indeed appear to begin by having for its earliest symptoms a tendency to catch numerous colds. But these colds were actually indications of active tuberculosis from the beginning.

The only sequel to a cold that occurs as a possibility is the infection of the nasal sinuses. And in most instances of this kind the sinuses were already infected and the cold simply lighted up the infection. The consequent possibility of middle ear infection must also be admitted, but is certainly rare, considering the enormous number of colds that occur universally.

The argument need not be labored too much. It is a matter of the most common daily observation that colds run their course, and in the vast majority of cases leave no permanent damage behind them.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Six pamphlets by Dr. Clendening can now be obtained by sending 10 cents in coin for each and a self-addressed, stamped envelope, to Dr. Logan Clendening, in care of this paper, or Central Press Association, 1435 East Twelfth street, Cleveland, O. The pamphlets are: "Indigestion and Constipation," "Reducing and Gaining," "Infant Feeding," "Instruction for the Treatment of Diabetes," "Feminine Hygiene" and "The Care of the Hair and Skin."

McKinney Bible Class Against Liberal Sunday

Adopt Resolution Sunday Protesting Repealing Of Present Sunday Law

Members of the McKinney Bible Class of the First Presbyterian church, at their bible class session Sunday morning, passed a resolution protesting against any bill looking towards the liberalizing or repeal of our present Sunday law.

The class has an enrollment of 190 members, all of whom were in unanimous accord on the matter. The resolution requests the State Senator and representatives of Lawrence County to use their vote and influence against any repeal of the present Sunday law, the text of which follows:

WHEREAS, at the present session of the Pennsylvania State Legislature some bills have been introduced having for their purpose the liberalizing or repealing of the 1794 Sunday Law, and

WHEREAS, our State has grown in population and has prospered, and our people are happy and contented under the provisions of the Law as we now have it, and

WHEREAS, the Courts of our State have heretofore interpreted this Law and can be trusted to continue to interpret it in a spirit conforming to the needs and the reasonable demands of the times, and

WHEREAS, those engaged in professional, business, industrial and other pursuits in our State seem to have ample time during the week for the enjoyment of secular pleasures and recreational games, and

WHEREAS, we are opposed to what is known as the "Continental Sunday," and we are opposed to any attempt to make it legal to hunt, fish, exhibit moving pictures or to play baseball and similar sports or games on the Sabbath Day.

Now Therefore Be It Resolved That we protest against the passage of any bill looking towards the liberalization or repealing of our present Sunday Law, and we respectfully request our State Senator and Representatives in the Legislature to oppose any such bill, both by their vote and influence, and we also respectfully request our Governor if any such bill should be presented to him for his signature to veto the same.

Adopted at New Castle, Pa., this 8th day of March, 1931.
R. H. KIRKPATRICK,
Pres. McKinney Bible Class.

Attest:
P. J. PERRY,
Secretary McKinney Bible Class.

LOOKING BACK
IN NEW CASTLE

Speaking of hard times and business depressions, that of the past year is not the first or the hardest that this community ever experienced. The years 1855-56 were something to think about along those lines and it was necessary to help many destitute persons. Added to the depression of that period was the further trouble occasioned by a flood and the terrific cold weather of the winter of 1855-56.

In January and February of 1855, the scarcity of work became so pronounced that the laboring people of the community found it impossible to secure work. The number of destitute people became so large in the then small community that steps had to be taken to give relief.

The Ladies Benevolent association undertook to relieve the situation and free soup dinners were served the destitute people of the city every day for many weeks at the home of Richard Caven.

In June of the same year there were exceptionally heavy rains and the rivers were so swollen that navigation on the canal was interrupted for several weeks. With this means of transportation cut off, the supply of flour and provisions became very scarce.

January 12, 1856, twenty inches of snow fell and during this month the mercury went as low as 23 degrees below zero. On February 3 it reached 32 degrees below and again on March 20 it was 20 degrees below.

Perhaps these things will help most of the people to think less of their hardships as they see them today.

THE SILENT PARTNER OF EVERYONE

THE stabilizing effect of Stock Fire Insurance is of such importance that business paralysis would certainly follow its elimination or impairment.

Fire insurance so effectively safeguards the home, factory and store, and contributes such an element of certainty to all enterprises, that it is well termed the Silent Partner of everyone.

Makes the Uncertain Certain

Protection may be secured from Stock Fire Insurance companies against loss or disaster caused by fire and the elements, as well as riots and civil commotions and other causes.

STOCK FIRE INSURANCE companies also issue policies protecting against property damage, loss of profits, losses due to interruption of business, loss of rents or valuable leases, loss of goods in storage, or in transit by motor, aircraft, railroad, steamship, or other carriers.

Fewer Chances

Business runs more smoothly and economically, credit is stabilized, and fewer hazards accompany every business process because of the more than $150,000,000,000 constantly at risk in the protection of property against fire loss and an almost equal amount against losses due to other hazards.

Hoover Views Land Proposal

Hoover Gets Proposal To Turn Over 180,000,000 Acres Of Land

WESTERN STATES WILL GET BENEFIT

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Mar. 10.—President Hoover had before him today a proposal to turn over to 22 western states 180,000,000 acres of vacant federal lands for ultimate transfer to private ownership.

The proposal was contained in a report of the President's commission on conservation and administration of the public domain, covering eighteen months investigation. The commission was headed by James R. Garfield, former secretary of the Interior, and comprised 17 other members, including former Senator Bursum (R) of New Mex.; Mary Roberts Rinehart, authoress, and George Horace Lorimer, editor of the Saturday Evening Post. The report had the approval of Elwood Mead, commission of reclamation.

The land involved is within the 22 states, which would be expected to offer inducements for future acquisition by private interests.

State Sanction Necessary
The states would not be required to accept the land, and state legislative action would be necessary in addition to federal legislation to consummate the transfer.

The major recommendations are: Transfer of the land under a ten year program; conservation and use of water for flood control and reclamation; conservation of surface minerals, with transfer of subsequent mineral rights to the states; conservation of timber resources in national forests and recommendations for the enlargement of existing forest tracts; administrative changes to produce greater efficiency in conservation and use of all natural resources.

The report endorsed the boulder dam project as the model for future flood control plans, and as an incident to flood control, power generation and water development for irrigation purposes should pay part of the cost.

The regular meeting of the Protected Home Circle Lodge, which was to have been held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Muriel Boyd of New Castle on Monday evening was postponed until a later date.

Mrs. Adrain Schultz of Mt. Jackson and Mrs. H. H. Knox spent the day recently the guest of Mrs. R. E. Skillen of New Wilmington.

Mr. and Mrs. George Lottetter and daughters of Sharon were guests Sunday of the former's parents Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Lottetter.

Mrs. Catherine Tomer has been confined to her home with illness for several days.

Rev. and Mrs. William Parson and Mrs. Burdette Stevenson have returned after visiting friends at Wooster, Ohio.

Special meetings will be held at the Methodist church each evening this week by the pastor Rev. Henry Shillings. Special music will be furnished by the choir with Mrs. Ralph Goddard, choir leader.

When Your Cough Hangs On, Mix This at Home

The best cough remedy that money could buy, can easily be mixed at home. It saves money and gives you the most reliable, quick-acting medicine you ever used. The way it takes hold of stubborn coughs and chest colds, giving immediate relief, is astonishing.

Any druggist can supply you with 2½ ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a pint bottle, and fill up with plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey. It's no trouble at all to mix, and when you once use it, you will never be without it. Keeps perfectly and tastes good—children really like it.

It is surprising how quickly this loosens the germ-laden phlegm, and soothes and heals the inflamed membranes. At the same time, part of the medicine is absorbed into the blood, where it acts directly on the bronchial tubes, and helps the system throw off the whole trouble. Even those severe coughs which follow cold epidemics, are promptly ended.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway Pine, containing the active agent of creosote, in a refined, palatable form. Nothing known in medicine is more helpful in cases of severe coughs, chest colds and bronchial troubles.

Do not accept a substitute for Pinex. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

State Health Secretary Discusses "Health Fans"

"An internationally known author recently asserted that 'the search for health is the most unhealthy of all human things'. And if one develops a personal interest concerning health to the point of morbidity, this statement is true. Unfortunately there are many persons who do that very thing," said Dr. Theodore B. Appel, State Secretary of Health, today.

"For example, a few weeks ago a man who had been an ardent devotee of medical literature developed a condition which, according to his own notion, was cancer. Instead of seeking medical advice he harbored the idea until it became an obsession. And finally driven to desperation, took his own life. The facts in the case were that he possessed a sore which was far removed from cancer, and which could have been cured quite easily by proper professional treatment.

"While this is an extreme instance, it nevertheless exemplifies the state of mind which in varying degrees is likely to result from a too intense study of disease and disease manifestations on the part of laymen. Indeed, there are thousands of persons who can truthfully be styled health fans. They read everything and anything pertaining to diseases and prevention, and then apply this information introspectively to themselves. The fear complex naturally results.

"As a consequence, medicine chests are loaded with all sorts of concoctions, health becomes a matter of prime importance, children are medicated and disciplined to the point of nausea, and the joy of life is to a large extent thus eliminated. "On the other hand, there are thousands of persons who give too little attention to the subject of health. They have time for business and for play, but none for a rational consideration of personal well being.

"These two classes represent the extremes. Both are dangerous and should be avoided.

"It must be understood that the aim of present-day health education is directed to the stimulation of sound preventive measures; and in addition, attempts to allay the superstitious, false ideas and untruthful statements that flow so copiously from the writers paid by nostrum venders and quacks. Incidentally, there is no more insidious misinformation being circulated than that contained in the pamphlets of unethical medical men and allied groups. To them goes the blue ribbon for the development of unjustified fears and the disastrous consequences that frequently follow in their train.

"The sensible person should be always acutely alive to acquiring sound knowledge concerning the body and the fundamental factors involved in the maintenance of well being. His interest should lead to the choice of good living habits, but should not become so intense as to develop into an inordinate hobby.

"A reasonable golden mean attitude toward the very vital question of health is what is required. This will result in a well balanced mind and a well balanced body. And health is that. Just that, and no more."

Man Chained To Cell In Solitary Confinement Dies

(International News Service)
JOLIET, Ill., Mar. 10.—An inquiry today was to open a triple investigation into the death of Joseph Coakley soon after he had been handcuffed to the door of his cell in the state penitentiary here during solitary confinement.

Inquiry which followed Coakley's death brought the admission from prison officials that it was a common practice in the penitentiary to handcuff prisoners to cell doors for long periods and in such a position that it was impossible for them to sit down.

Coakley had been chained with his hands above his head for eight hours Saturday.

Plan To Combat Typhoid Fever

Five Centers Will Be Established In State To Fight Typhoid

EPIDEMIC SPREADS RESULT OF DROUGHT

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Mar. 10.—Five centers will be established in the state, Dr. Theodore B. Appel, State Health Secretary, announced here today to combat and prevent typhoid fever which spread abnormally in Pennsylvania as a result of last summer's unprecedented drought.

Each will be equipped with a mobile laboratory and personnel, to move through its district stamping out the disease. Funds for operation of the centers come from the federal government, which has allocated $30,000 to the State Health Department to relieve conditions caused by the drought.

The five centers, Dr. Appel said, and the districts to be covered from each are:

Uniontown, center of Fayette, Washington and Westmoreland counties; Pottsville, center for Schuylkill, Carbon, and Lehigh counties; Pottsville, center for Schuylkill, Carbon, and Lehigh counties; Lancaster, center for Lancaster, Lebanon, Berks and Dauphin counties; and Gettysburg, center for Cumberland, York, Adams, and Franklin counties.

Spread of typhoid, the Health Secretary said, was the most serious result of the drought in Pennsylvania and all Federal relief funds will be expended against the disease.

POWERS IS SEEKING TO OVERTURN DECISION OF COUNTY COURT

one Pete Robertson as a part of the setting of fact, the clause so used modifies the word "coupe" and identifies the car.

District Attorney Powers immediately took an appeal to the Superior Court and in his argument this morning went into the grammatical construction of the indictment and argued that the court was wrong in its interpretation.

Second Case

The other case was that of the Commonwealth against Albert Murawski for assault and battery. The indictment in this case was quashed because in the opinion of the Lawrence county court, "the court had no jurisdiction in the proceedings, that the transcript of the proceedings does not show that the defendant was held for court, and that the proceedings were improperly in the Court of Quarter Sessions."

The district attorney's argument in the appeal is contained in the following question he has presented, "should an indictment be quashed on the alleged insufficiency of the information after the defendant has had a preliminary hearing and was represented by counsel at the preliminary hearing and after bail was entered into for his appearance at the next term of Quarter Session. Court and after a true bill had been regularly found by the grand jury?"

Insofar as is known this is the first time that the district attorney of Lawrence county has ever appealed the decision of the Lawrence county court to the Superior Court. Mr. Powers felt that the decision of the lower court were not proper and in order to establish a precedent, felt that he should have a ruling from the Superior Court.

Steel Tonnage Shows Decrease

Unfilled Orders Of February 28 Show Decrease For Steel Tonnage

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Mar. 10.—United States Steel unfilled tonnage as of February 28 showed a decrease of 167,157 tons, according to an announcement made at noon today. Unfilled tonnage on February 28 totaled 3,965,194 tons against 4,132,351 on January 31.

On Dec. 31, 1930 unfilled tonnage was 3,943,890 tons, on November 30, 3,639,636 tons and on Feb. 28, 1930, 4,479,748 tons.

While Wall Street generally expected a decline in unfilled tonnage as of Feb. 28 last, the loss was somewhat more than anticipated.

This was believed due to the fact that the Steel Corporation increased its rate of operations during February at a pace in excess of incoming orders. The common shares of U. S. Steel sold off about a point in trading on the New York Stock exchange immediately after the announcement.

Undersecretary Of State Cotton Is Sinking Rapidly, Physicians Say

(International News Service)

BALTIMORE, Mar. 10.—The death of Joseph P. Cotton, undersecretary of state, is imminent, Dr. W. E. Dandy, said today. He suffered a relapse yesterday and immediately began to sink.

"Mr. Cotton's death is only a question of hours," Dr. Dandy said. He is at Johns Hopkins hospital.

Snow Plows Battle Drifts All Night To Clear Highways

Early this afternoon Superintendent Lightner of the State Highway Department in Lawrence and Mercer counties said his men had practically completed clearing all state highways in the county after a difficult all night battle with snow drifts that persisted in covering motor lanes.

Four trucks in Lawrence and six in Mercer counties were ploughing their way through the snow during the night. Road caretakers cindered bad stretches. Lightner said the roads are in a fair condition. Road workers fear another snowfall would again repeat the hardships of last night.

The highways in both counties were in poor condition this morning. A crew of men was out early today and worked hurriedly to clear some of the bad stretches.

Bogac Guilty Of Assault On Wife

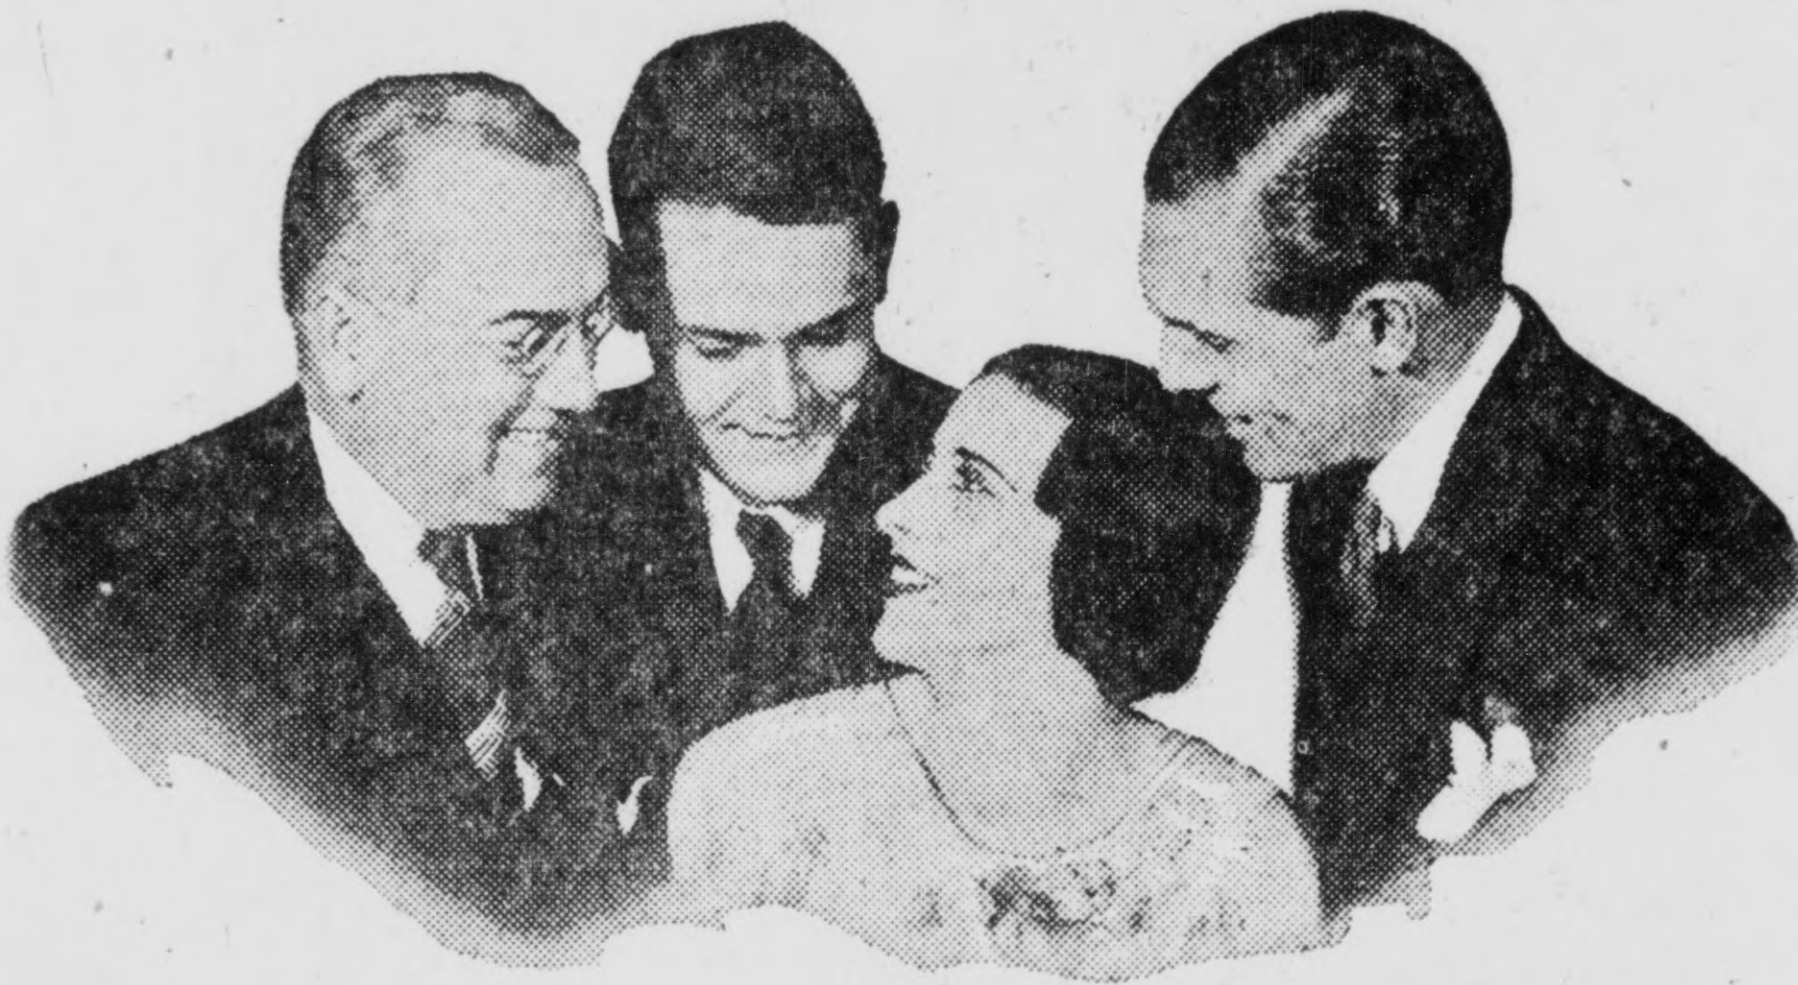

Joe Bogac, charged with assault and battery on his wife, Mary Bogac, was found guilty by a jury in court Monday afternoon. The case was tried before Judge Chambers. It was claimed by Mrs. Bogac that her husband had knocked her down and tried to wipe up the floor with her hair. Bogac denied the charge.

RURAL HOME FIRE BRINGS SMALL LOSS

Central and No. 6 fire companies responded to a fire in the J. W. Kelley five-room frame homestead on Wood street, Union township Monday evening at 8:45 o'clock. A defective chimney is believed to have caused a small fire. The blaze was extinguished in a short time.

Backaches can sometimes be prevented by raising a sink, worktable, or a wash tub.

Pascarella Is Found "Guilty"

Jury Returns Verdict At Noon Today After Having Been Out One Hour

Tony Pascarella, charged with an attempted assault upon a little nine year old school girl, was found guilty as indicted by a jury at county court today. The case was given to the jury at 11 a. m. after arguments by attorneys, and a charge by Judge Hildebrand. The jury was out one hour, returning a verdict at noon.

At Monday afternoon's session of court Pascarella went to the witness stand in his own behalf, and denied the more serious part of the charge made by the little girl. He admitted that he had first met her in a five and ten cent store. He said that she was looking at some balls and wanted five cents to buy one. He had given her the money. He said that afterwards when she would see him on the street, she would come to him and ask for five cents. Regarding the story of the little girl that he had been with her in a passage way back of a store on Apple Alley, Pascarella claimed that he had gone into the passage way alone for private reasons and that while he was there the little girl had come running in. He said that he was greatly embarrassed, and shouted to her to go away. He denied that he had laid hands on her.

Mrs. Rose Pascarella, wife of the defendant, was called as a character witness, as was also a number of the friends of Pascarella. They testified that his reputation had been good.

Dr. Mary Baker, who had been called following the arrest of Pascarella, was placed on the stand by the commonwealth and gave testimony relative to her connection with the case.

Witnesses from the police department included John Young, Charles Augustine, James Stiner, Edward Elder, and Mrs. Minnie McKibben.

Pennsy Aid Tops Membership Goal

Nearly Double Member List In Concentrated Drive Nearing Close

Rolling up a membership list of nearly 8,000 names or more, almost twice the goal announced, the Women's Aid of the Erie & Ashtabula division of the Pennsylvania railroad today was continuing its annual canvass for new members and renewals.

The organization, meeting at headquarters this afternoon, will likely discuss the drive.

The Women's Aid is a Pennsylvania railroad organization devoted entirely to relief work among Pennsylvania railroad people and is entirely independent of any outside relief agency. Its membership fees go to finance the relief work among needy E. & A. families.

a century. The rumbling from the grain belt consequently is deep and loud—a fact which the Democrats are keenly aware of and planning to utilize to their own advantage.

Democrats Wield Weapon

The Democrats are going to tell the Middle Western producers in the next campaign that they can lay the blame for their economic plight on the doorstep of the White House. They are going to have a lot of sarcastic things to say about that plank in the Republican platform of 1928 which pledged the party to put agriculture on an economic plane with industry. They are then going to cite the general revision of the tariff, which gave industry still higher rates on things the farmer must buy, and at the same time point to the steady recession in prices for things the farmer must sell.

The Democrats believe it is going to be a very potent argument. The Republicans fear it is, too. Hence the beginning now of a careful campaign to convince the disgruntled wheat and corn producers that the administration really did all it could for them, and that if it had not been for the foresight of the administration their plight in the current economic depression would have been a lot worse.

Argument Arranged

The Republican argument is to be like this: "It is true that we are passing through hard times. It is a worldwide depression. But hard as the times have been under Republican administration, they would have meant bankruptcy and worse under Democratic administration."

Or, as Robert H. Lucas, executive director of the Republican national committee, put it today:

"The new council will actively engage, both in organization work and in the dissemination of accurate information regarding various constructive steps which the administration has taken to aid the farmers and to save them from bankruptcy in this critical period of economic depression and drought."

The Republican vote of the great Middle West, reaching from the Alleghenies to the Rockies, has always been the veritable backbone of Republican strength. When that vote has gone against the Republicans they have lost, the last occasion being in 1916.

This year, with Republican disaffection rampant in the populous eastern states because of the prohibition issue, the solidarity of the Middle West becomes more and more necessary to Republican victory in 1932.

Senator Capper Named

The selection of Senator Capper of Kansas as one of the heads of the new council was regarded as particularly appropriate. Senator Capper has agricultural publications, or "farm papers" that blanket the grain belt. He was the leader of the Senate farm bloc. Dickinson was the leader of the House farm bloc from its formation, only being elected to the Senate last November.

The Republican high command is under no illusions as to what the party faces in 1932 if business continues at its present levels.

"As a matter of fact," said Senator George H. Moses of New Hampshire, "revolt is rampant in both old parties. In the East it's prohibition; in the West it is agrarian. We might as well admit it."

The Republicans, being in the saddle, naturally are most vulnerable, and the fact is admitted by the more candid of the leaders.

The progressive conference opens here tomorrow and is not expected to apply any salve to the Republican wounds. Three of the sponsors of that conference are Republicans—Senators Norris, LaFollette and Cutting—all closely identified with farm relief legislation and in the confidence of farm organization leaders. All three charge the administration with "absolute failure" to meet the needs of the farmers or to keep the promises of 1928.

The battle for the all-important farm vote of 1932 might well be said to have started as of today.

Pittsburgh City Council Refuses To Probe Succop

Council Unwilling To Sponsor Probe In Supplies Controversy

NEW DIRECTOR TAKES OFFICE

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Mar. 10.—Pittsburgh's city council was again on record today as unwilling to sponsor a general investigation of charges of "wastage of the people's money" in the purchase of supplies for the city as requested by three civic organizations.

Petitions from the Allegheny League of Women Voters, the Allied Boards of Trade and the Civic Club of Allegheny calling for a probe of the department of supplies were not acted upon except to record their receipt and filing, tantamount, in the expression of city newspapers, to a refusal to recommend the desired investigation.

New Director. An unexpected feature of the council meeting was the reading of a prepared speech by practically every member of the city legislative body in which the point of view of each councilman was expressed on the issue which has gripped the interest of the public and its officials. An overflowing attendance was present at the meeting.

A new director of supplies, Col. W. R. Dunlap, was sworn in. He takes the place of Bertram L. Succop, dismissed by Mayor Charles H. Kline for "visible irregularities" in the conduct of the department.

Preparations were being completed today for two audits of the accounts of the department of supplies which begin tomorrow.

Welsh News

By WILLIAM A. JOHNS (Brython)

Last Sunday was a red letter day in the history of the Emmanuel Baptist Church because the members and friends had a glorious time listening to the preaching of Rev. George Harries, of Edwinstown, in the morning Rev. Harries delivered a sermon in English. After the service he spoke in Welsh. Rev. T. Williams, pastor of the First Congregational church acted as moderator at the afternoon service. The singing of the Welsh hymns was under the direction of William H. Richards. Miss Ann Jones was the pianist. A pleasing Welsh solo was rendered by the veteran tenor singer, William C. Lewis. He was accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. Dr. Scott. Professor Davis of Westminster college gave a rendition of the beautiful solo "It Is Enough". His wife was at the piano. Rev. Harries kept the audience in good spirit for nearly one hour.

His discourse was in connection with the Patriarch Job. In the evening at 7:30 o'clock he delivered another sermon in English. After the preaching service he administered the Lord's Supper to a large number of the congregation of the church. Rev. Harries will fill the

Tears Up License; Is Last Straw For Prospective Bride

Harrisburg Woman Didn't Mind Groom-To-Be Being Arrested

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, Mar. 10.—The budding romance of Stanley L. Slater, Reading, and Miss Catherine E. Emminger, Harrisburg, has been checked. Principally because Slater wrote a couple of checks, all bad, but also because he tore up their marriage license.

Slater, it was discovered today, came here from Reading, obtained a marriage license and prepared to close the romance.

The same evening, however, he went back to Reading in the company of a police officer to face charges of passing worthless checks. On his way back he tore up the marriage license.

And that was the fatal mistake. Reading business men who cashed the checks agreed to withdraw the charges if the checks were made good. Slater agreed to make them good.

"Now," said he, "I'll go back to Harrisburg and get married." "Oh, no he won't," stated Miss Emminger when the news was conveyed to her. "At least not to me. I didn't know anything about this bad check business and that was bad enough. But when I learned he tore up the marriage license I was furious."

Junior Brotherhood Visits St. Barnabas

Junior Brotherhood of St. Andrew's Episcopal Church enjoys visit to the St. Barnabas Home of the St. Barnabas Brotherhood, when eighteen boys and young men were the guests of the Brother Superior at dinner on last Saturday night.

The boys expressed keen admiration for the type of work that the Brotherhood is doing after they had been conducted through the many rooms and wards of the home, by Brother George. They too were surprised at the size and beauty of the home where God's sick men are taken care of.

At five-thirty dinner was served by the novices and at seven fifteen after the Amos N. Andy program was over the boys started for New Castle. Cars were driven by John Gregor of Cunningham avenue, Arthur Owens of Waldo street, and by Captain Becker who used the Church Army van. The only mishap of the day was a broken axle on the C. A. van outside of Butler.

Those who made the trip were: John, Francis and Richard Gregor, Irwin Cartwright, John Hitchen, Norman Lewis, Robert Reynolds, Arthur Owens, Albert Laurel, Charles Smith, Harry Falls, Stephen Mitchell, Russell Garner, Fred Riley, William Polien, Mr. Engle and Capt. Becker.

From House to Home

Demise of the Seventy-first Congress Marks Exit of the House's Most Interesting Trio.

By ALICE ALDEN

WASHINGTON, Mar. 10.—Will this be the next chapter in the lives of three interesting women who have just finished their terms as members of the House of Representatives? Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick, Mrs. Pearl Oldfield and Mrs. Katherine Plangley have closed their political desks, thus leaving the field to but six women Representatives.

For two of them, at least, it can be prophesied that they have spoken their exit lines in the strange show that is Congress. Mrs. Pearl Oldfield, petite, gentle, intensely feminine, is grateful to the people of Arkansas who elected her to fill the unexpired term of her husband, the late William Oldfield. In her work, she has sought success from the grief that his death brought her.

Besides a desire to return to her home and take up the domestic duties that are still important to some women, Mrs. Oldfield has evidenced a dislike for the publicity that women in Congress invariably receive.

Mrs. Langley, who was defeated or re-election to Congress in the Tenth Kentucky District, played quite a part in political Washington. She was the first woman member of Congress to be appointed to the Committee on Committees, and in this position succeeded Congressman John M. Robinson, who was elected to the Senate. It has been intimated that Mrs. Langley is quietly laying her plans for a re-election campaign. And it is easy to believe that parting from her mahogany desk was, for her, a wistful moment.

What will be the political future of the dynamite, vivid, forceful Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick? As Illinois Congresswoman-at-Large, she was an interesting figure in political Washington. The recent dramatic campaign she waged for Senatorial honors against "Hann" Lewis will not be soon forgotten.

Now Mrs. McCormick says that she plans to go back to her Illinois farm with her two daughters, but no one for a moment can imagine Ruth McCormick content with dull routine. She plans later to devote some time to her newspapers, but no doubt will later make political news as well as editing it.

exhausted every possible opportunity for a state probe, meeting en banc, the judges decided to send a personal emissary to Governor White with a final request for a gubernatorial investigation.

The demand for a probe came in to being when the Ohio Edison Company charged that Engle, in his official capacity, had made demands on the organization for $150,000 for "services rendered". Engle, himself, at once demanded an investigation of his office and declared that the charges were false.

Caste Holds Rehearsal For Show Bizarre

Dress Rehearsal For Coming Benefit Production Held Last Evening

ALL IN READINESS FOR BIG SPECTACLE

Final dress rehearsals for the show "Bizarre," which will be given in the Cathedral Thursday and Friday evenings for the benefit of the James Memorial hospital, were held last evening, and all is now in readiness for the production.

With many new features added, this year's minstrel and comedy show promises to be the biggest thing of its kind ever produced here.

In addition to the splendid minstrel cast, there will be many high class vaudeville numbers worked into the second part of the show, besides the regular plot which carries right through to the end.

One of these will be a piano specialty number arranged by Harry Hammond. Then there will be the musical skill entitled "On the Gay Lunetta," which was produced here 30 years ago, and the personnel of the cast is much the same as it was then, including Steve Griffith as the soloist, "Fritz" and "Lou" Harlan, Jack Griffith, Paul Welsh, James Dygert, Bill King, George Westlake, Alex Donnan, "Hub" Hart and Phil Greer. This has been arranged and directed by Arch Cubbison.

Then there will be many dance numbers, arranged by the Van Ipe school, and several surprise feature numbers.

High class music, dances, songs, etc., feature the production, including several song numbers written by New Castle folks.

Taken all-in-all, it is a show which is worth many times the price of Such prominent thespians as DeLace Cole, Lew Pearsall, Joe Love, Harry Elwell, Charley Nolan, Steve Griffith, Lew Jenkins, Jerry Hammill, Reed McCullough, Henry Jenkins, Myrabeth May and Sam McCleary are in the cast.

The Harmony Boys, Messrs. Micalette, Frenkel and Pacelli, in high class instrumental numbers, and the Phi Phi quartet of Westminster college are included.

There will be "barber shop" harmony for those who like it, and high class music, high and low brow comedy, in fact every kind of comedy which goes to make up a production of this kind.

Boy Discovers Smoke; Rouses Family As Fire Sweeps His Seventh Ward Home At Night

Neighbors of the Zdurienick family, whose frame six-room home at 306 Mahoning avenue was saved by firemen late last night, today were telling about little Joe, Jr., whose presence of mind proved one of the highlights of the fire.

The boy, 10 years old, was asleep in a second floor bedroom with his brother, John 14, Steve 6. Smoke poured into the room at about 10:30 p. m. from the first floor, causing Joe to choke. Soon he realized the trouble and raced into another room to awaken his mother.

The boy then awakened his two sisters, in the house at the time, Pauline 8, and Mary 12, and the boys. Mrs. Mary Zdurienick called a boarder, Frank Prohod. Then she succeeded in getting to the first floor entrance opened the door and screamed for help.

The children, scantily attired rushed to homes of nearby neighbors. The entire neighborhood was astir by this time and a call was sent to the fire department. Central, Fifth and Seventh Ward apparatus arrived following receipt of an alarm at 10:40 p. m.

Disease Is Not Conquered, Says Medical Secretary

Dr. S. O. Pruitt Of State Tuberculosis Society Is Doing Work Here Today

"Tuberculosis is far from being a conquered disease," according to Dr. S. O. Pruitt, medical secretary of the Pennsylvania Tuberculosis Society, who is in New Castle today examining the employees of a local plant, under the sponsorship of the local tuberculosis society.

"In recent years much progress has been made in the fight against tuberculosis as indicated by the lower death rate from this disease," continued Dr. Pruitt. "But for certain age groups there has been no striking decrease in mortality. Tuberculosis shows a marked predilection for striking down young people between the ages of 15 to 45 years, causing a great waste of life and productive power, not to speak of untold suffering, and so a new method of attack has been devised. Within recent months valuable work has been done among school children showing that much tuberculosis exists among those who are apparently well. Early diagnosis is facilitated by means of the tuberculin skin test and the X-ray which adds years to the lives of our potential citizens and increases their productive power," according to Dr. Pruitt.

Last year the slogan of the National Tuberculosis Association was "Early discovery, early recovery." This year the slogan is—"Tuberculosis, the foe of Youth."

At the Shenango Pottery, 163 have been examined to date. Dr. Pruitt is being assisted by Miss Sara Burckart and Miss Morrison, nurse in charge. Various defects have been found and those examined will be advised to seek correction of these defects at the hands of their family physicians to whom notices will be sent.

In speaking of the tuberculosis problem, Dr. Pruitt stated this morning—"According to government statistics there are approximately 10,000,000 children in the United States who are of high school age but only 42 per cent of these are in school; 58 per cent are in industry and elsewhere in gainful occupations. Hence, any well-balanced program for tuberculosis control must take into account not only the young people in school but those at work in the industries. In Pennsylvania it is estimated that there are about 350,000 children between 15 and 19 years of age in school and about 490,000 engaged in gainful occupations."

Dr. Albert Day As Dinner Speaker

Methodists Of City Will Join In Dinner Thursday Evening In First M. E. Church

Dr. Albert C. Day, minister of Christ Methodist church, Pittsburgh has been secured as the dinner speaker for the banquet which is being given Thursday at 6:30 in the First Methodist church for all Methodists of New Castle.

Dr. Day is an outstanding minister, not only in his own denomination, but his ability is recognized by all denominations. His interests are not confined alone to direct church work, but he participates in the general community and municipal affairs. Last year he was among those who brought a settlement of the disturbing taxi strike in Pittsburgh and he is now a member of Gov. Pinchot's committee on unemployment in Pittsburgh.

Those who will hear Dr. Day on Thursday evening are assured a rare treat.

Rev. C. S. Joshua, of Croton church is making arrangements for the musical part of the entertainment and this Get-Together banquet of the Methodist churches promises to be a most successful event.

The women of the participating churches are to prepare and serve the menu. Mrs. W. L. Beal is general chairman of arrangements.

Fight Fat In Your Doctor's Way He Knows What's Right

Physicians the world over now employ a new method of treating obesity. It is based on modern science, and aims to correct the cause, no starvation, no over-exercise, no harmful drugs.

The reason is this: Medical research has found a great cause of obesity in a weakened thyroid gland. That gland largely controls nutrition. Its secretion helps turn food into fuel and energy. When that secretion is scant, too much food turns to fat.

So physicians now feed the factor that is lacking. That is one great reason why excess fat is so much less common than it used to be.

Used in Marmola

Marmola prescription tablets supply this needed factor in ideal combination. A world-famous medical laboratory prepares them to fit the average case. A book in each box gives the formula complete and explains the results. The purpose is to supply this new method, at a modest price, to all who are over-fat.

Marmola has been used for 24 years—millions of boxes of it. Users have told others the results, and the use has spread. It has for two decades held top place in this field.

Now you see the results wherever you look. Your own friends can tell you of them. Excess fat has been disappearing at a rapid rate in late years.

Avoid the Fraud

During all this time, many false treatments have been offered for obesity. Some were harmful, some absurd. One by one they have dropped out as users found them false. But others have come under new names.

But Marmola has stood the test of time, because it offers the right way to reduce. The use has grown and grown as users proved it out. Let these facts guide you. Don't be misled. You cannot grow slender without harm and much effort, unless you correct the real cause of obesity.

Do what modern doctors do.

Fat is Abnormal

Excess fat is a blight to beauty, health and vim. To those who know it suggests an abnormal condition. It over-taxes hearts, shortens lives, it quells vitality and vim. Half life's joys are missing to the fat.

Be moderate in all things, but don't starve. Don't over-exercise. Such methods often bring injury. Combat the cause in an easy way, as multitudes are doing. Simply take a Marmola tablet four times daily, until weight comes down to normal.

Watch the New Vim

As weight comes down, watch the new vitality, new vim. Not only because you lose the burden of fat, but for other reasons. Other ductless glands depend on the thyroid for activity. So this simple help may bring many amazing results.

Go try Marmola. A nine-day treatment costs $1 at drug stores. Read the book in the box. When Marmola does for you what it has done for so many, tell others about it. Go start today.

Progressives Are Enthusiastic Over National Meeting

Permanent Organization To Be Effected To Seek Liberal Legislation

SESSIONS WILL OPEN WEDNESDAY

Senator Norris, Nebraska, Is Chairman Of Conference In Capital

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Mar. 10.—A permanent organization to battle for enactment of liberal legislation in future sessions of congress will be formed at the National Conference of Progressives, meeting here tomorrow and Thursday, it was announced today by its managers.

The group of senate insurgents, Republican and Democrat, who sponsored the conference, were enthusiastic over the prospects when 122 nationally prominent educators, economists, publicists, labor and farm leaders accepted their invitation. The conference, they said, would be devoted first to obtaining a cross-section of the national viewpoint toward progressive policies, and second, to lay the foundation for a national organization for enacting liberal legislation.

A preliminary list of the progressives of both parties, who accepted invitations to the conference, failed to include the names of either Franklin D. Roosevelt, governor of New York, or Gifford Pinchot, governor of Pennsylvania. It was said Roosevelt declined on the ground he could not spare the time from his gubernatorial duties, while Pinchot was reported to have indicated he would attend at least one session of the conference.

Senator Norris (R) of Nebraska, conference chairman, said special committees of experts and legislators probably would be organized to "gather further information and draft legislative proposals in the future." This was but a tentative plan, he said, subject to revision by the conference.

Unusual Roominess and Comfort

—in the new line of 1931 Chevrolet sixes were made possible by utilizing the two-inch increase in wheelbase to increase the size of the new Fisher bodies.

The combination steel-and-hardwood bodies, the most durable known, have important changes at vital points, to make them strong, rigid, and as completely squeak-proof as human ingenuity can devise. Anti-squeak material in liquid, rubber dough or friction form is used between all steel braces and wood parts.

Put Finishing Touches On Big Ford Steel Plant

Pennsylvania Engineering Works Getting Ready To Ship Huge Furnace

Employees of the Pennsylvania Engineering Works are now putting the finishing touches on the big 400-ton open hearth furnace, contract for which was secured several months ago from the Ford Motor Company for their plant at River Rouge.

Actual construction work is just commencing at the Ford plant in Detroit, which has led some financial papers and newspapers to believe that it is an entirely new contract, and stories to the effect that the order has just been placed with the Pennsylvania Engineering Works have been carried by these papers during the past few days.

W. S. Wheeler, vice president of the Pennsylvania Engineering Works, stated this morning that preparations are now being made at the local plant to start shipment of the equipment, which consists of a 40-ton open hearth furnace of the tilting type and two hot metal mixers of 600 tons capacity.

The local plant has been awaiting the completion of the foundation for the plant before starting shipment.

Path to Tinselled Love Ends in Tragedy

Death of Vivian Gordon Recalls Fate of Other Broadway Butterflies Who Have Flitted Round Pleasure's Flame.

NEW YORK, Mar. 9.—There are ghosts hovering over the hectic, fantastic playground they call Broadway, ghosts of beautiful women who have drunk deep from Life's goblet only to find that Death lurked in the dress.

It is a sad list, that list of beautiful women who live dangerously and sometimes dies mysteriously, with never a real clue as to the identity of their murderer. And now to this sad roster must be added the name of Vivian Gordon, who was of Broadway, who knew its "big shots," who lived in luxury and who has died mysteriously as she lived. A bizarre existence she seems to have had, this beautiful Vivian Gordon, who went to her death wearing a costly mink coat and dazzling gems of great value. Her diary indicates that she had reason to fear several—that danger constantly threatened. But she fluttered on amidst the bright lights of the Main Stem and perhaps went to her death with men she thought she could trust, companions, playmates in the Broadway playground.

Once again, there are clues, questionings, witnesses, some open, some secret, just as there were a few years ago when beautiful Dot King was found, her gay life snuffed out amidst the silken hangings and brightly colored cushions of her luxurious boudoir. Dot King, too, had lived dangerously. The underworld was familiar with her affair with a millionaire clubman and like jackals hovered round to secure crumbs from the feast of gold. And while she was in the heyday of her youth and beauty, while she was at the height of her "success" as Broadway knows it, someone, gained access to her apartment and snuffed out her life with chloroform. Was it a blackmailer? Well, would a blackmailer want to kill the goose that laid the golden eggs? Was it a lover who was too poor to buy her affection? As yet the mystery is unsolved, just an unfinished thread in the tapestry that is Broadway.

Some years ago a sweet and pretty girl came to the modern Mecca, New York, all aflame with ambition to be a great pianist. Diligently she studied, practiced, until one day she fell in with some girls who were successful in teaching her that ambition was dull compared with pleasure and luxury.

So Louise Lawson, too, took the easiest way and her apartment was also furnished beautifully with luxuries. Louise wore exquisite clothes, life and men seemed kind to her. And then, on the morning of Feb. 8, 1924, Louise Lawson's maid led herself into the uptown apartment only to find her mistress, scantily clad, lying on her soft, silk-hung bed, dead. The lovely neck of Louise Lawson was cut, a necklace of pearls, that it knotted a beautiful mark of strangulation and tape had been wound again and again about her lovely face. The room had been

Bo Broadway by JOSEPH VAN RAALTE

By Central Press

NEW YORK, Mar. 10.—Day by day it becomes more difficult to live in New York. It's a town for the young—the energetic. It's tough sledding for the oldsters. And one by one they're deserting.

Henri Mouquin, venerable Frenchman, once owner of noted restaurants in the metropolis, is the latest of those who have "quit."

"I have all I want on my estate, in Virginia," says Mr. Mouquin. "I have no doctor, no lawyer, no preacher. No one to make me sick or annoy me. The City of New York with 'prohibition' and buildings too tall for me to see the top, no longer appeals to me."

The old gentlemen's contempt for modern restaurants is superb.

"No one wanted to make money on food in the old days," he says. "The wine brought the profit and those who didn't drink wine were served more than meat."

WHAT PRICE GLORY?

Way down on the end of Third Avenue there's a curiosity shop operated by a gentleman whose previous name is Joseph, and whose subsequent moniker is not of the slightest interest.

Joe used to buy war medals from heroes—and paid good prices for 'em.

"I got a tender heart, even if I have been a lot of years in business," he says. "Every hero that ever comes to me with a medal an' a hard-luck story always get a square deal."

DANDRUFF

Soon Destroys the Hair

If you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and two or three more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. Four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.

LOUISE LAWSON DOT KING

The murder of Vivian Gordon, would-be vice witness, adds another tragedy to the already unsolved murders of Broadway's butterflies, Dot King in 1923 and Louise Lawson in 1924. The three victims had chosen the glowing pleasures of the Gay White Way of New York's fantastic playground they call Broadway, and the latest tragedy brings forth the query. Will Vivian's death be relegated to the annals of Broadway's unsolved murder mysteries?

ransacked, valuable jewelry was missing. Was this merely a blind? Again the police were faced with a mystery of the Dot King type. And again, there clues led them to nowhere but a dead end. She, too, had rich men friends, protectors. She, too, liked clothes, gems, excitement, and she, too, died as mysteriously as she had lived. And so it goes!

Not all of the Broadway butterflies have so terrible a death. But many of them live so dangerously that death is ever near them. Beautiful little Marion Roberts, almost a child still when she met the notorious Jack "Legs" Diamond, was precious close to death when Jack was shot in her suite, early one Sunday morning in the Hotel Monticello. Marion has not found the going so good since then, but everybody hopes that the pretty little dancer will find life kinder to her than it has been during her young life.

Beautiful Inez Norton who loved Arnold Rothstein and was in his confidence has learned, too, of the unhappiness that surrounds a Broadway Beauty when sudden death removes her lover. And so has Dolores Farris, the dancer who had so dearly loved Frank Marlow, Broadway racketeer who met an end as sudden and mysterious as that of Arnie Rothstein.

hidden by almost naked chorus Goddesses.

Somebody asked Chick's wife, Peggy, the champion lady steer rider, whether the temptations of her husband's job hadn't fretted her. "Fret?" said Peggy. "Not me. Chick was plumb disgusted!" Now you tell one.

NEW 48 HOUR TREATMENT

Here's the new swift way to drive Rheumatism from your joints and muscles and free your body from Rheumatism, Sciatica, Neuritis—many call it the week-end treatment—and it is particularly valuable to those who cannot afford to lose time thru the week.

Start to take Allenru as directed on Friday night and keep to bed as much as possible till Monday morning—Allenru acts with double speed when the sufferer is relaxed and resting.

Allenru is a powerful yet harmless medicine—free from narcotics—you can't depend on mild medicines to overcome stubborn rheumatic conditions and hasty relievers used only to stop pain won't get the uric acid out of your joints.

Allenru is sold by Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., and all modern druggists America over—an 8 oz. bottle for $5.00—And guaranteed to do as advertised or money back.

Houn' Dog Is Basis Of Law Suit

WASHINGTON, Pa., Mar. 10.—A $10 dog will cause a $100 trial here, because lack of jurisdiction compelled Justice of the Peace B. M. Kelso, of Canonsburg, to send the case to court. Mrs. Josephine Sanfine, Canonsburg, was charged by John Chaplin, Canonsburg, with stealing the dog, a hound.

Star Witnesses Summoned Today In Buckley Case

State Will Produce Two Star Witnesses To Murder Of Gerald Buckley

WITNESSES SAW GUNMEN FLEEING

(International News Service)
DETROIT, Mar. 10.—Climax to the state's fight to send three alleged gangsters to prison for the murder of Gerald Buckley, crime crusading radio announcer, is expected today when two star witnesses offer testimony in the court drama.

Gus Reno, a taxicab driver, who was stationed at a stand in front of the LaSalle hotel on the night Buckley was "put on the spot" there and Fred Tara, a factory worker, who says he saw the killers flee from the hotel with smoking guns in their hands, are to appear.

Prosecutor Harry S. Toy declared that the two men would identify Ted Pizzino and Joe Bonmarito, two of the men on trial, as the gunmen.

Livechi Identified
Angelo Livechi, alleged finger-man in the case, has already been identified by four witnesses. All declared that he was loitering at the entrance of the hotel on the fatal night and that he appeared "pale and nervous." Toy alleges that he summoned the killers and pointed Buckley out to them.

Reno is expected to admit under cross examination that he made weekly trips to the police department for "witness fees" which so far have amounted to approximately $950. Like Elmer Jolly, ex-LaSalle hotel detective, Reno will testify that he signed no vouchers for the money.

Prosecutor Toy maintained that payment of money to witnesses was legal. Defense attorneys maintain, however, that vouchers might be signed by witnesses after receipt of "fees."

WARN FARMERS
(International News Service)
NEW HAVEN, Conn., Mar. 10.—A two-hundred year depletion of soil and failure to provide adequate fertilization is turning farm lands of Connecticut into wastes. Such is the warning sounded by the state agriculture experiment station here after an exhaustive study of the soils of Connecticut.

HAVE SMITH AND ROOSEVELT SPLIT?

Potter Relates Red Cross Work

Executive Secretary Here, In Lions Club Talk, Tells Services

Secretary Orville Potter of the local American Red Cross chapter today laid before the New Castle Lions club an enlightening description of the multitude of services the organization is rendering New Castle and the county.

Mr. Potter, speaking about the veterans-aid activities of the branch principally, brought the message to the club's regular Tuesday luncheon-meeting in the Elks club.

He informed the Lions that a budget of $5,000 is the operating basis for the chapter. A full-time executive secretary and a full-time public health nurse are employed, while the general affairs of the branch are directed by a board of 20 business and professional men and women who donate their time.

Turning aside to the actual work of the Red Cross, Secretary Potter noted that relief work among ex-servicemen and their dependents is the chief activity. He listed for the benefit of the club the many services that it performs.

To impress upon the members the tremendous amount of work and correspondence necessary in securing veteran's claims, Mr. Potter produced a heavily-loaded paper file which enclosed letters relative to but one individual case.

The Red Cross within the past few weeks has inaugurated home hygiene classes among the women of the city, the public health nurse having complete charge. First aid, life saving and other classes are sponsored with complete instructors. He spoke also of the part the Red Cross would be expected to play in emergencies.

The Lions today endorsed the Mothers' assistance fund about to be presented in state legislature. Letters conveying the action of the club will be forwarded Governor Pinchot and other officials.

Two new members R. L. Boyd and Jack Gerson were in attendance today.

Washington Man Held As Slayer Of Wife's Lover

Hurta Ira Dulaney, Finds Another Man With His Wife And Kills Him

POLICEMAN IS

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Mar. 10.—Hurta Ira Dulaney, 37, made an unexpected visit to his apartment; creeping up the stairs in his stocking feet to prevent his wife from hearing him. Today William Huff, 25, Hume Springs, Va., died from four bullet wounds in his body; Dulaney was held for a coroner's jury on a charge of murder; Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Dulaney, 25, the wife, was held at the House of Detention while her four children were being cared for by relatives.

Before going home Dulaney telephoned the police warning that "something might happen" and a policeman was sent to the house. The husband told him he believed a "burglar or somebody was in the house" and suggested the officer go up the back stairs while he went up the front in his stocking feet.

The policeman was in the rear of the apartment house when he heard the four shots and found Huff lying in the Dulaney apartment.

Mrs. Dulaney was on her knees holding his head and crying "Bill, Bill," the policeman said.

Two of the Dulaney's small children, Edward, 20 months, and George five months, frightened by the pistol shots, were screaming. Their father looked on as if in a daze.

The husband told police he had warned Huff to keep away from his wife but had seen him enter his house when he passed it in a street car. He said he had been separated from his wife and went back to live with her only last week.

Mrs. H. H. Knox Is To Collect Taxes

Court Opinion Finds That Appointment By County Commissioners Is Legal

In an opinion handed down by Judge James A. Chambers this morning, the appointment of Mrs. H. H. Knox as tax collector in Pulaski township, which was made by the county commissioners, was sustained, and Mrs. Knox will be allowed to collect the taxes.

The facts of the stated case submitted to the court were as follows: H. H. Knox, husband of Mrs. Knox, was elected tax collector in 1929 and duly qualified. Mr. Knox was killed in an auto accident at the Pennsylvania railroad crossing in Pulaski on November 23, 1930.

At the time of his death he had collected $3,756, out of approximately $13,100 tax outstanding, according to the duplicate.

Mrs. Knox was appointed by the county commissioners to collect this tax. At the time the supervisors presented their petition she has not qualified by presenting her bond.

On February 19 she filed a bond which was approved. It was agreed that if the court found that the county commissioners had the legal right to appoint a tax collector, then the rule would be discharged. If they had not, it would be made absolute.

The court finds that there is a conflict between the act of May 17, 1917 and July 14, 1917, relative to the appointment of tax collectors, and the jurisdiction of county commissioners and the court in such matters.

After citing a number of decisions the court concludes that the county commissioners had the right to make the appointment.

May Grant Chimney Award Next Friday

Council Must Decide Whether Or Not To Change Guarantee Clause

Council will probably award a contract Friday for the relining of one of the chimneys at the municipal garbage plant. Bids were read yesterday and referred for checking to the city engineer.

The plans and specifications called for a five year guarantee but not all the bidders complied with the request. Some of them offered a guarantee for one year only.

According to the bidders a chimney builders association of which some of the bidders are members whereby they believe "year is long enough to determine if there are any defects in the work."

Among the bidders were three New Castle firms, all of which agreed to comply with the plans and specifications. They are: Joseph H. Hartland, two bids. One for $945. An alternate bid calls for a repair job at $438.00. L. F. Vaughn, $995. Burns and Perry, $1,730.00.

TAKEN TO HOSPITAL
Alyene Imhoff, who was found to be suffering with mental trouble, was taken to the state hospital at Torrence, Pa., this morning by Deputy Sheriff Andy Venditto.

News Of The World As Told In Pictures

"Big Four" at Democratic Convention

The first meeting of the Democratic National Committee since 1928, now in progress at Washington, D. C., was thrown into an uproar when John J. Raskob, its chairman, proposed a State's rights prohibition plank for the party's next National Convention. This picture, taken during recess, shows the Big Four of the party, who are taking a leading part in the meeting. They are, left to right, former Governor Alfred E. Smith of New York, Chairman John J. Raskob, J. P. Morgan and James M. Cox, of Ohio, Presidential nominee in 1920.

THREE ON TRIAL FOR MURDER OF RADIO ANNOUNCER

USES AIR TRAVEL TO SHORTEN TRIPS

Miss Marion H. McClench

True to modern efficiency methods in use in business, Miss Marion McClench of Ann Arbor, Mich., president of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs, shortens her numerous trips in behalf of her organization by taking the air routes. When the federation meets in Richmond, Va., for its annual convention next July, Miss McClench expects to take off by air from Detroit for Chicago, where she will board a special train for Richmond with an all-woman passenger list.

Braves Death

Braving the Arctic wastes to help alleviate the sufferings at Point Barrow, where it is said an epidemic of diphtheria is raging, Joe Crosson (above) took off from Fairbanks, Alaska, carrying 250,000 units of anti-toxin, with a stop over at Wiseman for refueling.

Movie Fashions

This one-piece frock worn by Jeannette MacDonald, screen player, is of eggshell crepe. The jacket is of blue wool kasha cloth with brass buttons and scarf of blue and white crepe. White buckskin oxfords and half hose complete her costume.

Buried With Her Secret

Last of "the woman who knew too much." The burial of Vivian Gordon, murdered vice witness, in Mount Hope Cemetery, New York, was attended by her brother, Pierce M. Franklin (left) holding derby and a few friends. While the woman who might have pointed the way to "the higher-ups" in the vice ring was being interred the hunt was still going on for her murderer, and her 16-year-old daughter, a shame suicide, was being buried in Audubon, N. J.

Another Home-Run Babe

Democrats Off to Early Start

Not Much Left

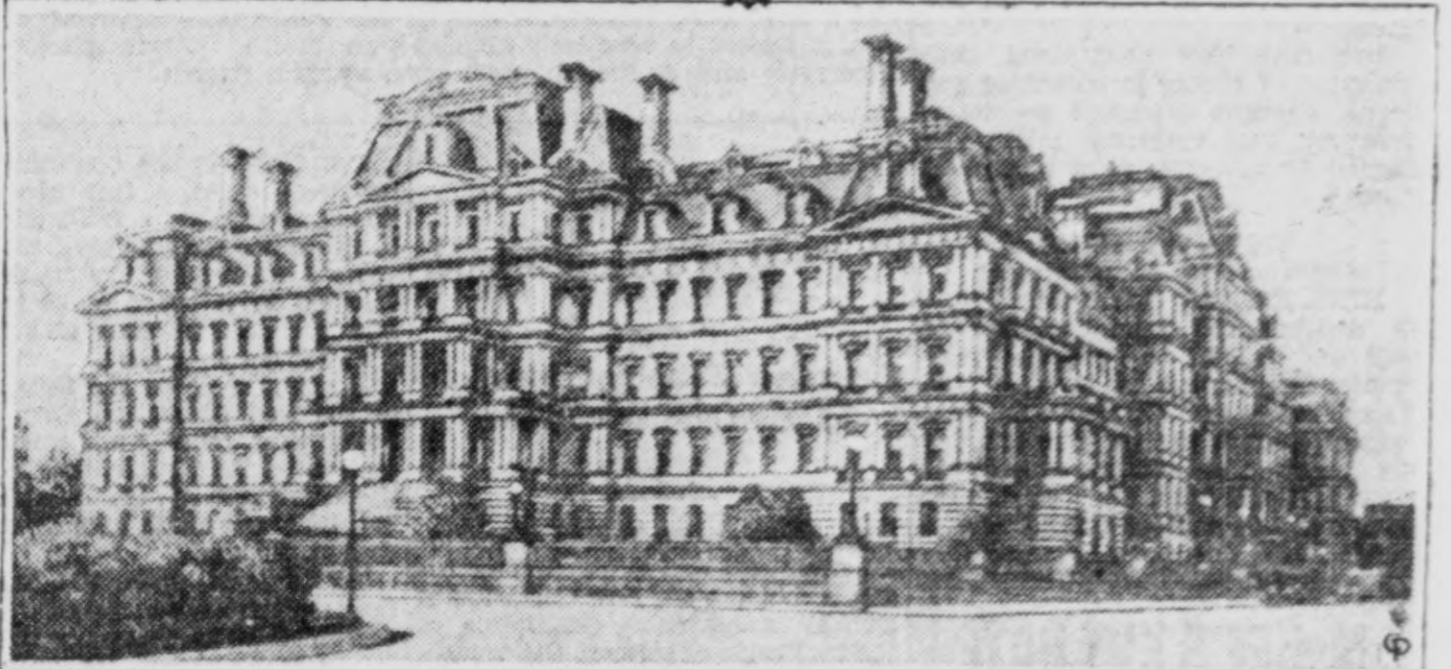

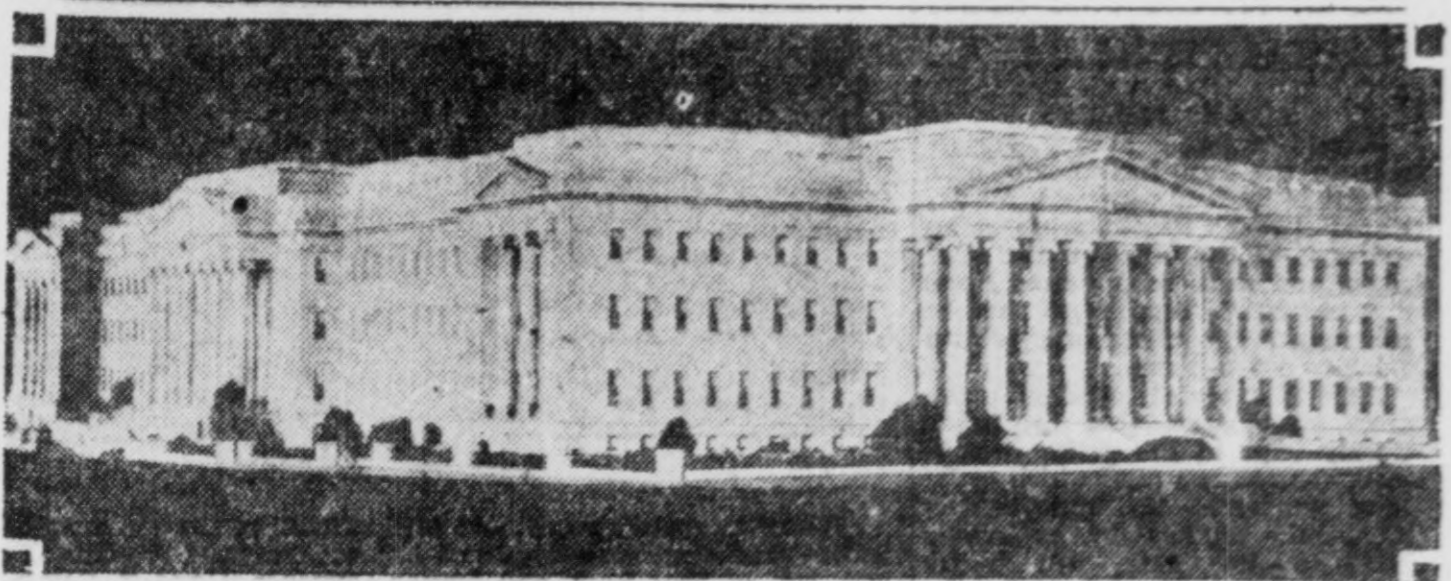

This debris is all that remained of the tugboat "Joyce Card," following a boiler explosion that blew it to bits at its pier in Brooklyn, N. Y. Six of the crew were killed, and three others seriously injured. Only a dog mascot escaped death or injury.

Stockade Where Eleven Convicts Died

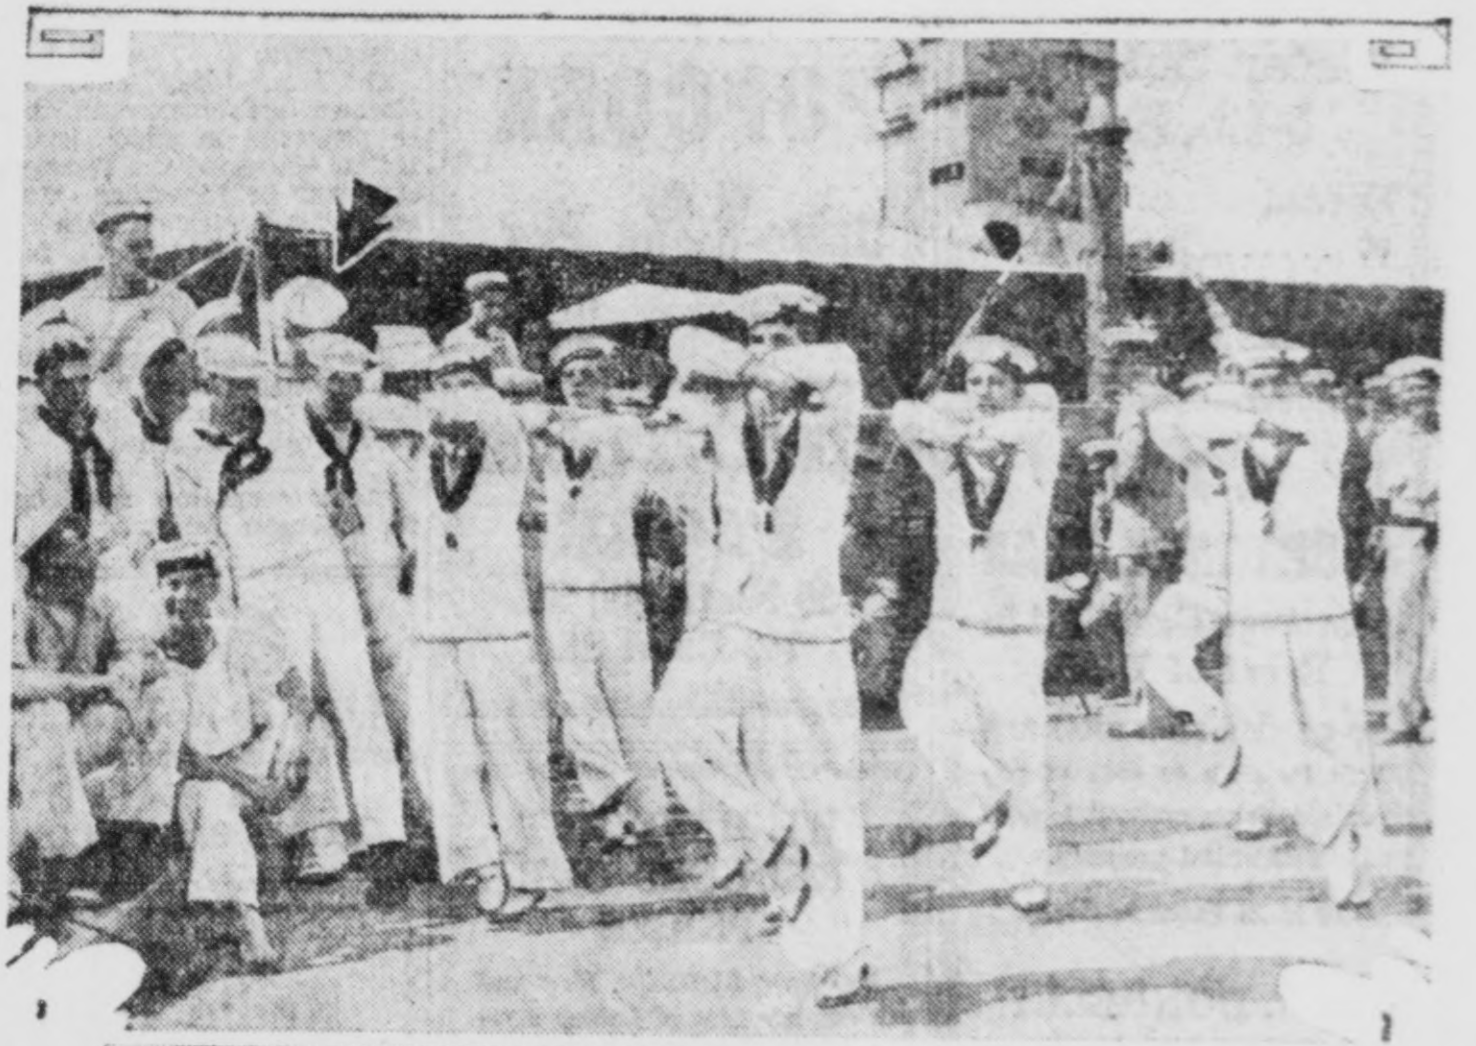

The charred ruins of the prison stockade near Kenansville, N. C., where eleven convicts perished, trapped in their cells, as flames destroyed the entire structure. Forty other prisoners were rescued from the flaming building by guards and fellow convicts.

Lawn And Garden Contest Plans Are Being Completed

Committee On Entries Has Meeting At C. Of C. Rooms Monday

ELLWOOD CITY, Mar. 10.—Plans and arrangements for securing and handling entries in the Ellwood Yard and Garden Contest were completed at the meeting of the committee on entries held yesterday afternoon at the Chamber of Commerce offices.

The committee which is composed of J. T. McLaughlin, chairman, Dr. H. S. Gold, J. C. Eichenlaub, Eric Yahn and Charles Johnson, considered a number of methods of getting as many properties enrolled as possible.

There is no cost to enter the contest and entry blanks will be published in the Ledger from time to time. Entry blanks will also be distributed to stores who request them and wherever cards bearing the Yard and Garden Contest slogan is displayed, entry cards may be obtained.

Thirty-five cash prizes ranging from fifty dollars to five dollars will be awarded at the close of the contest on September 15.

There will be three inspections made by the judges between April 15 and September 15. Judging will be on a basis of greatest improvement shown, thus making the chances of winning greater for those who have heretofore neglected their yards and home surroundings.

Every contestant whose property is rated better than eighty percent at the close of the contest will also receive a beautiful lithographed certificate of award.

Much interest is being manifested in this city beautification project as the time for the contest to open draws near. Entries will be received from March 15 to April 15 and the entry blanks should be filled out and mailed or sent to the Yard and Garden Contest, care of the Chamber of Commerce. Each entrant will receive two very fine gardening handbooks, the gift of the contest committee. This book will be mailed as soon as entry is received at the Chamber of Commerce headquarters.

A number of window displays are being arranged by the publicity committee for the purpose of interesting citizens in the contest. The window of the Ellwood City Building and Loan has an attractive and interesting display of landscape ideas, while a number of others are in contemplation.

Mrs. J. L. Connard returned Monday from a visit to Mrs. Robert Grandey of Beaver Falls, a former resident of Ellwood City.

Miss Katherine Moorhead returned to her work Monday after a week's illness.

H. W. Smith has returned from Florida after a few weeks' visit and recreation in Miami.

M. S. Gelbach and Ray Aylesworth were business visitors in Pittsburgh Monday.

Young People Consider Plans

District Council Has Gathering Last Night In Lutheran Church

ELLWOOD CITY, Mar. 10.—Miss Marjorie Streeter, the new president presided over a splendid meeting of the Young People's District Council in the Trinity Lutheran church last night. A fine representation of all of the Young People of the local churches was present.

The customary business meeting was held and some important business was transacted and matters discussed. The organization decided to have early morning Easter services during Passion week. A committee was appointed to look into the matter, with Miss Margaret Battersby as chairman. Plans for having a camp this summer were also discussed. Also a plan was accepted to raise money for the near future. The council decided to send two officers to the State Council meeting in Johnston, Pa., on May 1, 2 and 3.

After the business meeting a entertaining social period was thoroughly enjoyed by all present. Games, contests, and music by the Ellwood Mandoliers brightened the occasion.

As a concluding event some delicious refreshments were served to the tired members.

Ellwood Negro On Trial For His Life

Securing Jury To Hear Evidence Against Grover Spencer

BEAVER, Pa., Mar. 10.—Grover Spencer, 23, colored, of Ellwood City went on trial before Judge Frank E. Reader at Beaver yesterday accused of the murder on February 15th of Roosevelt Bailey, 30, colored, of South Beaver township. The Commonwealth demands a first degree verdict with the penalty fixed at death.

Spencer pleaded not guilty and spoke the required answer that he wished to be "tried by God and his country." He was visibly nervous, and for the most part sat beside his attorneys, twisting and wringing his hands, although his face was almost expressionless. The greater part of yesterday was taken up securing a jury.

Police Chief To Be Trial Witness

ELLWOOD CITY, Mar. 10.—Chief of Police W. C. Morrison of Ellwood City motored to Beaver early this morning to attend the trial of Grover Spencer, who is charged with the shooting and killing of Roosevelt Bailey in Koppel after an argument. Local police arrested Spencer in Ellwood City after getting off a train. Therefore, most probably Chief Morrison will have to testify at the trial.

Former Resident Dies On Monday

Armstrong, 83, of Oakmont, Pa., and former resident of Ellwood City passed away at his home after a long illness. He died Monday morning at 3 o'clock. The deceased was popular in Pittsburgh having the reputation of being a fine auditor, a position he has held for many years.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Julia Armstrong, two daughters, Marian, and Emma, one son, Harry, all of Pittsburgh.

Funeral services will be held at the home Wednesday evening and then a private burial will take place Thursday morning from the home.

Rev. A. G. Fischer Ends Pastorate

ZELIENOPLE, Mar. 10.—Rev. Albert G. Fischer, who for several years has been pastor of the Oak Grove Lutheran church in New Sewickley Township, Beaver county, also the Hope Lutheran at Franklin Roads, preached his farewell sermon to the congregation at both churches Sunday.

Rev. Fischer has been a very prominent minister of the Pittsburgh Synod of the Lutheran churches, and has for some time served as secretary of that organization. He resided in the parsonage at the Oak Grove parish, the Hope Lutheran congregation being a part of that charge also, and will in the very near future move his family to Derry, Pa. where he will take up his work as pastor of the Lutheran church there.

Both congregations, while in the rural district are large ones, and have grown considerably since Rev. Fischer has been pastor of them, he being a very active minister, and it was with much regret that the members of both accepted his resignation, which was given them about the first of the year.

Roma Club Members Guests Last Night

ELLWOOD CITY, Mar. 10.—With delightful hospitality Mrs. Floyd Frishkorn entertained the members of the Roma club at their regular meeting at her home on Pershing street last night.

Bridge had occupied the attention of the club members for the greater part of the evening with three tables being at play. Six special guests thoroughly enjoyed the proceedings of the evening, who were Mrs. F. H. Swanson, Mrs. Elmer Douds, Mrs. William Sanders, Mrs. Max Ewing, Mrs. Harry Walker and Mrs. Arthur Grandey. At the conclusion of the games Mrs. Swanson was the winner of the guest award and Mrs. William Deymon the club prize.

A delicious luncheon was served by the hostess in the beautiful surroundings of spring flowers and St. Patrick colors.

Mrs. Frank Huffman invited the club to meet at her home on Petain street in two weeks at the club's next regular meeting.

Shelby League Battle Tonight

Opponent For Specialty Five, First Half Winner Not Yet Determined

ELLWOOD CITY, Mar. 10.—The Shelby league tournament has reached a crisis. With 2 more games for each team to play and the challenger for the Specialty, first half winner is not yet determined. The result of Saturday's games still leave the Hot Mills and Office deadlocked for the second half honors.

Local fans are excited as they realize the tenseness of the battle. The Office is scheduled to meet the champion Specialty this evening in a crucial game. This is the more important of the two games. The Hot Mills will engage the hard fighting Mechanicals in the other game of the double header. Another revival by the Specialty like that of last week will probably give the Office a defeat. The champions are showing signs of their old form again and are very dangerous when in this mood. The Hot Mills team is expected to come out victorious again.

Should one of the contenders lose this evening's battle matters will still be deadlocked again if the losing team is the victor in Saturday game when the Hot Mills and Office do battle in the final game of the season. A play-off will again be necessitated as in the first half. After this final preparations will be made for the post season series to decide the championship. The Specialty is already the one team in the series and the other will soon be known.

Both congregations, while in the rural district are large ones, and have grown considerably since Rev. Fischer has been pastor of them, he being a very active minister, and it was with much regret that the members of both accepted his resignation, which was given them about the first of the year.

Mrs. J. D. Kirk Club Hostess

ELLWOOD CITY, Mar. 10.—Mrs. J. D. Kirk was a charming hostess to the members of the Monday Evening Bridge club at her home on Fifth street last night at their regular meeting. Mrs. Ceila Ralston was a special guest on this occasion.

Bridge was the chief diversion of the evening with three tables being at play. It was found that Mrs. Harvey Aiken, Mrs. Howard Wilson and Mrs. George Dambach were the prize winners at the conclusion of the games.

At this time the hostess served some light refreshments which closed the affairs of the evening.

Mrs. Joseph Moorhead will entertain the club in two weeks at her home in Pittsburgh Circle at their next regular meeting.

Dorcas Class Has Excellent Meeting

ELLWOOD CITY, Mar. 10.—A very interesting meeting was held by the Dorcas class of the First Baptist church last night in the class rooms of the church.

It was the regular monthly meeting. The business meeting was first held at which time the routine business was transacted.

The meeting rooms had presented a lovely appearance in its appointments. St. Patrick's decorations. After the business meeting a very enjoyable social period was held of which games and contests were the feature.

The success of the evening is due much to Mrs. James Cogley and Miss Sara Fisher, joint hostesses for the occasion.

W. B. A. MEET

ELLWOOD CITY, Mar. 10.—The Ladies of the W. B. A. will hold their regular meeting in the Schaeffer hall this evening at eight o'clock. An important business meeting is scheduled and also Mrs. Ada R. Stone of Butler will be present. Mrs. Stone is district deputy. After the business meeting bridge, 500 and bingo will be enjoyed. The friends of the club members are invited to attend. This will start at 9:45 p. m.

W. C. T. U. MEETING

ELLWOOD CITY, Mar. 10.—Instead of meeting on Friday evening, the W. C. T. U. will meet Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. William Gettler in Sixth street.

On Friday evening the mid-year county institute will meet at the Harmony U. P. church in New Castle. The meeting opens at 10 o'clock in the evening and many local ladies are planning to attend.

Jewish Women Have Meeting

Meet In Home Of Mrs. Alice Wainstein Of Park Avenue Last Night

ELLWOOD CITY, Mar. 10.—The Council of Jewish Women held a very interesting meeting last night at the home of Mrs. Alice Wainstein in Park avenue. It was the regular monthly meeting and also celebrated the Jewish Festival Purim.

Mrs. Wainstein with associate hostesses Mrs. Max Groden had prepared a very interesting program for the benefit of the council members. All had come masqueraded as a part of the program.

The usual business meeting was first held and routine matters transacted. And then immediately following a delightful period of fun, games, contests, and other interesting events occurred for the pleasure of those present.

At the conclusion of the program the prizes were presented to Mrs. A. Kaplan of Wampum and Mrs. I. Kraus of Ellwood City, first and second prizes respectively.

At a late hour the 22 members present enjoyed some delicious refreshments served by the hostesses. The next Council meeting will occur at the home of Mrs. F. Wilkoff in Crescent avenue.

Quota Club Has Meeting Monday

ELLWOOD CITY, Mar. 10.—The Quota Club met at the home of Mrs. C. H. Smith last night for an important business meeting that was scheduled. There were 10 members present and important matters were discussed and transacted.

At the conclusion of the meeting a delicious luncheon was served by the hostesses.

The club will meet again in two weeks at the home of Mrs. Charles Hennon on Fifth street.

Zajac Is Charged With Beating Wife

Mrs. Zajac Tells Story Of Alleged Abuse To Jury At Court This Morning

John Zajac was placed on trial before Judge James A. Chambers in county court this morning on a charge of assault and battery preferred by his wife, Mrs. Zajac testified that on February 7, she was in the kitchen of her home with a baby in her arms and another child standing near. She got into an argument with her husband, during which he struck her. She said that he had a knife in his hand and threatened to cut her up.

She also claimed that her husband had beaten her on December 2, 1930, and that he had threatened to cut her up at this time. Again on December 31, she said that her husband came into the house intoxicated and with his face scratched. He said that he had run against the truck. She told him that if he didn't drink so much the truck wouldn't hurt him. With that she said that he "smacked" her on the face. He struck her several times, she said. Witness also told of other forms of abuse. She claimed that Zajac called her mother and other members of her family bad names. On cross examination Mrs. Zajac admitted that some of her trouble was over her requests for him to turn property over to her.

In his own defense Zajac denied many of the allegations of his wife.

SORDS POINTS

Bender, Crafty Indian Hurler, Turns Coach

By JACK SORDS
Central Press Sports Artist-Writer

They didn't make them any smarter than the Chief when it came to pitching and the New York Giants haven't forgotten that little fact. This was proved when the Gotham club signed Chief Bender as coach. The brawny Indian always used his noodle on the mound. And he's using it now in teaching the Giant mound youngsters what is meant by his league pitching. He'll probably prove a great asset to McGraw.

Bender is a quarter-breed Chippewa who pronounced it Chippewa Indian. His German name is inherited from a German-American father.

From 1893 to 1901 Bender studied at Carlisle Indian school, that famous institution which gave the football world Jim Thorpe, Mount pleasant, Gus Welsh, Seneca, Guyon and Calac and other football brilliants.

Bender studied painting and the trade of tinmithing, but his baseball prowess got him a job tossing horseshoes for a Hillsboro, Pa., team in 1901. He was paid $3.25 a game.

In 1902 he changed his name to Albert and became a real pro player, signing up with Harrisburg. The A's grabbed him in 1903 and he soon became a great baseball name.

Bender's career began in the days of the immortals and spanned into the days of present-day pitchers. He was a youngster with the A's when Rube Waddell was the mighty man of the mound almost three decades ago and the Chief was an aging veteran, but still a winner when Herbie Pennock, now a Yankee, came to the Athletics.

SPYING ON SPORTS

BY WILLIAM RITT

Central Press Sports Editor

Is Primo Carnera fading from the American ugliest scene?

There is plenty to be said and testified to by lay scale and yardstick and it naturally would take a long time for such a great bulk to dwindle to nothingness, but the Colossus of Mussoliniland but the Colossus of Mussoliniland these days bear unmistakable signs of shrinking toward the status of an ordinary heavyweight.

Until he collided last June with one Gage Godfrey, a gentleman of color and certain fistic abilities, Carnera's fame and prospects were in the constant ascendancy. His success over mediocre opposition had been so unvarying it seemed inevitable that he would eventually battle for the world heavyweight title.

His prospects still are better than those of say Chuck Wiggins, but Primo no longer looks the certainty of early 1930.

Primo won over Godfrey by virtue of a foul blow delivered by the Black Shadow, but until that blow struck, Carnera's performance certainly did not smack of that of an all-conquering, irresistible.

On the heels of the Godfrey affair came Jim Maloney's unquestionable defeat of Carnera in Boston in October. This was such a great blow to the hopes of Carnera and his board of managers that he hustled across the briny to Barcelona, Spain, to battle Paulino Uzcudun, the well known Basque wood chopper.

The High Italian outscuffled Paulino in 10 rounds and came back to the United States feeling pretty well vindicated. But he wasn't. The boys were still talking about that licking Shamus Maloney had handed him, the beating being all the worse because Maloney was not a fighter of the first rank by any means.

Meanwhile Young Will Stribling, the famous fighter-flyer, has been signed to meet Maxie Schmeling for the title, and there was talk of Jack Sharkey being groomed to tangle with the winner.

This arrangement would leave Primo in the cold, so it was arranged that he meet Maloney again, this time to kayo Shamus and put an end to the spreading doubt that Primo was all powerful.

Primo has now won a decision over Maloney. What a decision! With many scribes and most of the paying spectators who viewed the Miami spring crying that Maloney was the real victor Carnera was worse off, from a title bout standpoint, than he was before the fight.

Poo Primo! His frame of mind as he looks back at the Miami melee must be that of a certain general who staggered from a certain battlefield with the moan: "Good land of Goshen!"—or something like that—and another victory like that and "lose the war!"

HIGHLIGHTS OF HISTORY

By J. Carroll Mansfield

26. Benedict Arnold—Fort Stanwix Saved By A Ruse

ON THE WAY TO THE RELIEF OF FORT STANWIX, ARNOLD LEARNED THAT ST. LEGER'S BESIEGING FORCE WAS CONSIDERABLY SUPERIOR IN NUMBERS TO HIS OWN AND AS HE NEARED THE BRITISH LINES HE RESOLVED TO TRY A STRATAGEM TO SHAKE THE ENEMY'S MORALE.

(Copyright, 1930, by J. Carroll Mansfield)

ARNOLD'S SCOUTS HAD TAKEN A NUMBER OF PRISONERS, AMONG THEM A HALF-WITTED TORY BOY. BY HOLDING ONE OF THE BOY'S RELATIVES AS A HOSTAGE, ARNOLD FORCED THE LAD TO AGREE TO RUN TO THE BRITISH WITH NEWS THAT A MIGHTY ARMY WAS ABOUT TO POUNCE ON THEM.

THE LAD PLAYED HIS PART WELL. DASHING BREATHLESSLY INTO ST. LEGER'S CAMP, HE GASPED OUT THAT THE AMERICANS WERE COMING, "AS MANY OF THEM AS THE LEAVES ON THE TREES!" THE RUSE SUCCEEDED EVEN BETTER THAN ARNOLD EXPECTED.

BELIEVING THAT SCHUYLER'S WHOLE ARMY WAS CLOSE AT HAND, ST. LEGER'S INDIANS AND TORIES FLED IN A PANIC. LEFT WITH ONLY A HANDFUL OF BRITISH REGULARS, ST. LEGER HURRIEDLY ABANDONED THE SIEGE OF FORT STANWIX (AUG. 22, 1777) AND RETREATED TO OSWEGO.

BESSEMER WINS CLASS B FLOOR TITLE

THREE FAST GAMES IN CLASS B TOURNEY OPENING ON MONDAY

Princeton Eliminates Enon Valley 20-11; Mt. Jackson Surprises, Tops Harlansburg

Bessemer High Is Crowned 1931 Class "B" Champs With Triumph Over East Brook

NEW WILMINGTON, Mar. 10.—Before a crowd of approximately 1,000 fans, the Lawrence County Class B high school basketball tournament opened officially on Monday night in the spacious Westminster college gymnasium with three fast games. In the first round of the evening Bessemer high won an impressive 29-15 victory over East Brook high. The victory gave Bessemer the 1931 Class B basketball championship of Lawrence county.

These two teams were deadlocked in the Class B race with nine triumphs and one loss. Due to the fact that these two teams were to meet in the first round of the tournament on Monday night, the officials of the schools decided it would be a bad idea to settle that tie for the title. And they did with the result showing Bessemer to be the 1931 champs.

Princeton high and Enon Valley opened the tournament with a fast tilt. Princeton won 20-11. Enon Valley lead at the half 9-8 but in the second half weakened. Princeton scored 10 points in the third quarter to eliminate Enon Valley from any possibility of winning the tourney. The playing of Watt and McRoberts featured for the Enon Valley quintet with McGuire, Shaffer and Lapinsky a chief factor in the victory for Princeton.

Mt. Jackson Surprises. The second contest of the tourney turned out to be a fast and exciting one which had the gathering on their heels in several instances. Mt. Jackson "spilled the beans" Monday night by topping a much larger Harlansburg high quint by a 31-25 count. Harlansburg was favored to cop this tilt and as the first quarter ended it looked like the posters were right. The initial canto found Harlansburg leading 12-8.

In the second quarter Mt. Jackson made a strong comeback in the last two minutes to take a 20-18 lead as the teams went off for intermission. Both combinations presented good defenses in the second half. Mt. Jackson, lead by the clever Pitzer a guard, scored 11 more points in the last half of the game to 7 for Harlansburg.

Mt. Jackson furnished the first surprise of the tourney. Pitzer, Mt. Jackson's stellar guard was the nucleus of the Jacksonites.

It was his playing that brought victory for his school. Griener and Keane also featured for Mt. Jackson with J. McCracken and Johnson playing the best for the lanky Harlansburg team.

The third and final contest of the first round of the tourney was a championship tilt. Bessemer high opened in the final three minutes of the game to win by a 14 point margin over East Brook high for the Class B title. Bessemer lead throughout the fracas but the East Brook team never quit and in the third quarter scored 7 points to 5 for Bessemer as the canto ended 16-11.

The final quarter was fast and close until the final minutes when the Cement City cagers flashed a fast attack that netted 13 points. The final score was 29-15. Standish with seven field goals and Stanley featured for Bessemer with P. Schuler the outstanding performer for the defeated East Brookers.

Two Games Tonight. The tournament will be continued tonight with two contests. In the opening game the New Wilmington high passers oppose Wampum high and in the second tilt Union high will attempt to eliminate Laproove. Two more fast games are anticipated.

Referee Waddington who officiated the entire three games Monday night performed his job like a veteran. William "Bill" Douglass, Westminster forward, is official timer in the tournament.

SEKYRA HAS FOUGHT CHAMPION SCHEMLING

Although Emmett Rocco and Joe Sekyra are the heavyweight aces of the Castle bowl punch party Monday night, there are two other heavyweights calendered who are bound to creep into the limelight if punch means anything. They're K. O. Kitts of Rittman, O., and Sam Cohen, of Cleveland. These heavyweights are doctored for the six round semifinal.

In size they are larger than either Rocco or Sekyra. They stand six feet in their stocking feet and tip the scales at 200 pounds. Around the Akron district, Kitts is noted for his hitting and Cohen has the same reputation in Cleveland. In fact Cohen has flattened six foes in eight rounds and only two others went the distance to get a draw. Kitts arrived in Ellwood City yesterday and assumed his duties as chief sparring partner to Rocco who will wind up his training in his home town. Emmett wants to weigh around 185. He tipped the beam at 190 when he fought K. O. Christner and believes that he was too heavy and that this extra weight made him "loggy."

Cohen will do his training at Cleveland. Frankie Rio, a former bowl favorite discovered Sam and while many give Frankie the laugh because Sam was a big awkward kid when he first appeared before the fans they have changed their tune. Such notables as Danny Dunn, manager of Johnny Risko, pilot for Joey Goodman, have put the "okey" on Cohen.

Sekyra will arrive here Sunday. He is training in New York. The coming clash will be the third with Rocco. Joe had no trouble outpointing Emmett in their first battle but when they tangled the second time Rocco beat him. Sekyra under-rated Emmett and knows from experience now that it cost him many bouts as Rocco stole his thunder. Joe has fought Max Schmeling, Willie Stribling, K. O. Christner, Tommy Loughran, Leo Lowski and many others of the "higher ups." He has only been stopped twice since 1926.

Rocco has fought many good fights and has always been good at the bowl. He beat Battling Levinsky, stopped Ed Keely and in his last encounter with Al Friedman at the bowl he fractured a hand. He got the injury in the second round but kept pegging 'em over and in the tenth round dropped Friedman to the canvas but Al got up and finished the fight.

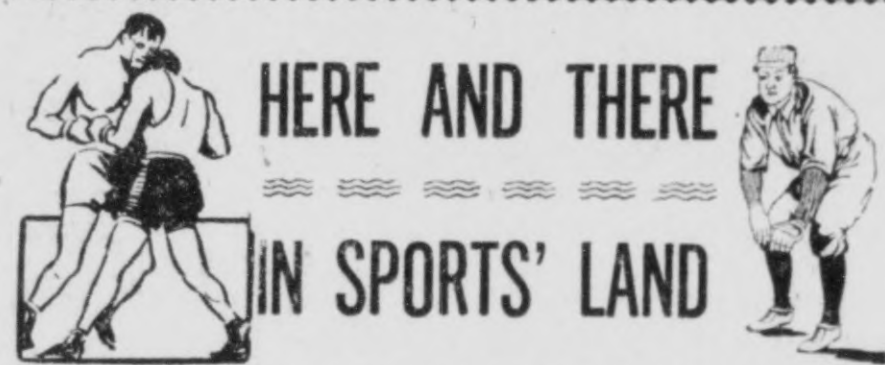

There will be plenty of cheering in the semifinal providing Joe Midway, the ring Adonis and Henry Attell of Youngstown keep their word. The last time they fought Joe put Attell down twice for counts and Joe visited the canvas for a nine count. They will weigh 160 and will be as strong as oxen.

Johnny Banko is sort of riled up over the way that Walter West has been talking about their last fight and West Pittsburg fans declare they will bet the family jewels on Johnny. West says that Johnny's knockout was a fluke and when he crawls into the ring he will stop Banko pronto.

Marshall Couette of Cleveland will return to this city to fight Al Farone at Pittsburgh. Al has fought Paul Baint, Buzz Hardy and a lot of junior lightweight in the Pittsburgh district. Couette is a fast kid while Farone is a slugger from belt to belt. This bout will open the carnival of gloves which will start at 8:15 p. m.

Athletics Want To Play St. Mary's Five

New Castle Athletics, composed of former high school players have issued a basketball challenge to St. Mary's team. The Athletics team is composed of Luther Rowe, Wario, J. Grommes, M. Pauline and J. Johnson.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Steve Smith of Bridgeport, Conn., defeated Johnny Datto in a 10-round bout at Pittsburgh, last night. Smith substituted for Jackie Rodgers who claimed he had an injured rib. Datto gave away five pounds to the veteran. Steve piled up a commanding lead and Datto's right hand was hurt, it was reported in one of the early rounds. Steve is the featherweight who outfigured Andy Martin in a battle at the bowl here. Datto had often been requested to fight Smith here but always refused but when Steve was sent in as a substitute at Pittsburgh he took him on and Smith took the decision.

Mickey Duris who recently outpointed Paris Kid Cangey here, took a six round decision from Billy Holt in the semi-final in the same ring. Holt floored Duris in the fifth round but Duris was not hurt by the blow. He got up at the count of eight. Al Farone, Pittsburgh lost a decision to Terry Waner. Al is the lad who is scheduled to battle Marshal Souette here next Monday night in the opening four round bout.

Ban Johnson, retired president of the American league is improved in a Chicago hospital but his condition is still serious. Several days ago his life was despaired of but reports state he was able to take more nourishment yesterday than he had at any time for several weeks.

Track and field championships of the W. P. I. A. L. will be held at the Pitt stadium, Pittsburgh, May 16, it was announced today. The preliminaries will start at 10 a. m. and it is planned to have all the final events under way by three o'clock.

Gene Sarazen and Johnny Farrell defeated John Kinder and Jack Thompson over the 36-hole quarter final round of the $5,000 International four-ball matches, yesterday at Miami to win 1 up. Denny Shute and Tony Manero won from Clarence Gamber and Cyril Walker, defending champions 2 and 1.

The tennis match between R. D'Onofre and C. Dunlop against Jack Crawford, Davis cup star and H. O. Hopman was won by the former, 8-6, 6-2, 5-7, 7-9, 6-4. The match was played at Sydney, Australia.

A crowd which was chilled to the marrow witnessed Prometheus, a Whitney castoff, romp away the St. Johns handicap to the oval between Jacksonville and St. Augustine when the 18 days meet opened yesterday.

WASHINGTON IS WINNER IN TWO TILTS AT UNION

Two George Washington junior high school teams, the school's varsity and the Washington Reserves, proved themselves a bit superior to two Union high school quintets in exciting contests played Monday afternoon on the Union gym floor.

By a score of 19-7 Washington's varsity lads rode to victory over the township school's reserves. The George Washington Reserves took the second game from Union's junior high boys to the tune of 31-26.

HAPPENINGS IN WORLD OF SPORT

Chicago Cubs Hope To Be In Thick Of 1931 Pennant Fight

Manager Hornsby Has Improved Ball Team At Training Camp

Pitching Staff Is Among Finest In League—Cubs Healthy Hitters

By HARRY NEILY
I. N. S. Special Correspondent.
AVALON, Calif., Mar. 10.—"This place under new management" seems to be the keynote of the Cubs in training for the 1931 National league season. Marse Joe McCarthy has gone hence to the Yanks and the Wrigley forces are under direction of Rogers Hornsby and the new broom is sweeping clean—as usual.

Possibly, in pre-season estimate of the Cubs, it might be well to set down the ideas of the new pilot as follows, Mr. Hornsby speaking:

Five-Team Race.
"Anybody who knows anything about the National league realizes that the 1931 season will see a five-team race. There are five mighty good clubs in the old league—the Cubs, Brooklyn, Pirates, Cardinals and Giants. We believe we have added sufficient strength to be a contender all the way."

It appears at this writing as if the Cubs will enjoy the services of Hornsby himself in the impending campaign. He has not spared himself in the training exercises and his bum ankles have held up.

He always could hit, the only question being if he could resume fielding. The ankle he broke last spring is repaired fully and the heel from which a horn-like substance was removed is in working order.

Hornsby Can Hit.
Hornsby is a normal .380 hitter. He did not play last season and Charley Root, a 20-game winner, folded up in August. Root was replaced by a muscle doctor during the winter and says he is fit. If these men hold up, the Cubs will be formidable. If not, one may erase them from the pennant possibility and hope for a place in the first division.

The Bruins have added two pitchers expected to be worth while. They are Bob Smith, obtained from the Braves, and Ed Baecht, bought from Los Angeles. Smith is a transplanted shortstop, author of ten victories and 14 defeats in 1930. He is a general, all-around ball player and should produce with a team that scores as frequently as the Cubs.

Baecht, a rather green-pea giant, six feet three inches in length, won 26 and lost 12 with Los Angeles last season. However, he is intelligent and ambitious. Maybe he will be of assistance. One never can tell until a rookie is under championship fire. Lester Sweetland, left hander, was acquired from the Phillies and Jackie May fetched up from Cincinnati.

Have Good Pitchers.
The pitching staff now rates: Malone, Root, Bush, Blake, Smith and Teachout. Some doubts may be entertained about the others, including Richard Montague, lately of the University of Michigan.

Gabby Hartnett will be the catcher-in-chief with Zack Taylor first assistant. Earl Grace, 323 in Reading, and Bill Campbell, 304 at Memphis, will fight it out for the third base job. One of them will go to Los Angeles. Campbell is the faster and Grace most experienced.

Johnny Moore, 342 for Los Angeles last season, is a most able fly-catcher and should hit big league pitching. To get a regular job all he has to do is displace Hack Wilson, author of many records; Kiki Cuyler or Riggs Stephenson. Danny Taylor also is on hand. He hit only 283 last season, not enough for an outfielder in these days. Cliff Heathcote still is around. He can play wonderful ball for about two weeks.

and then flattens, but he is a valuable substitute.
There you have the Cubs. Unless some unheralded rookie should pop up and deliver unexpectedly, it appears as if the team will try and go through with Hornsby at second base, Bob Smith and Baecht pitching regularly. That constitutes the improvement over 1930, when the team flattened in September to skid out of a comfortable lead in the final weeks of the last campaign.

Training Camp Notes In Brief

SAN ANTONIO, Mar. 10.—While rumors circulated that the long missing holdout, Bill Terry, had been traded, Manager McGraw came forward today with the statement he knew nothing about his first baseman.

ST. PETERSBURG—Earl Pennock, Yankee pitcher, said today he thought the new ball would favor veteran hitters and curve ball pitchers. He said the old timers would have no trouble connecting with the new ball.

ST. PETERSBURG—There was a feeling today Babe Herman would sign with the Brooklyn Robins soon. He sat in the grandstand yesterday and watched the Dodgers defeated by the Boston Braves 10 to 2.

PASO ROBLES, Cal.—"Am in shape."—These three little words on a telegram from Paul "Big Poison" Waner brought a broad grin to Jewel Ens and his Pirates today. The scintillating right-fielder, who has been under treatment for an infection, arrives in camp Friday.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex.—The Chicago White Sox regulars today faced a rookie nine in a seven inning practice set.

AVALON, Cal.—The Chicago Cubs returned to routine labors today after walking away with a 19 to 1 verdict yesterday in their game with Joe E. Brown's movie nine from Hollywood.

TAMPA, Fla.—After a snappy practice session today, the Cincinnati Reds will journey over to Clearwater tomorrow for a return game with the Brooklyn Robins. Benny Frey will probably start in the box for the Reds.

NEW ORLEANS, La.—Confident that a winning team can result only when there is a sparkling player at the shortstop post, Manager Roger Peckinpaugh of the Cleveland Indians, will probably supervise the instruction of Jonah Goldman, to cure his throwing ills on double plays, he indicated today.

BILOXI, Miss.—Infielder Jack Hayes signed his 1931 contract after a few days of bickering and today Manager Walter Johnson had all of his Senators signed and here for training.

FORT MYERS, Fla.—The Athletics tackle the House of David team this afternoon. The St. Louis Cards took another game, 4-3, from the A's yesterday, making it two out of three.

Kensington Tops New Brighton Hi

New Kensington Wins W. F. I. A. L. Game 33-32 In Two Extra Periods On Monday

Overcoming a 10-point lead, New Kensington high, 1930 W. F. I. A. L. champs, made one of the strongest comebacks staged in the tournament thus far by defeating New Brighton high 33-32 on Monday night on the Pitt floor in a second round contest of the tourney. Two extra periods were essential to decide the winner. Wilson caged the winning markers in the final minute of the second extra period. New Brighton led at the start of the extra time when Beitsch sent in a field goal that placed the Beaver valley team on top by two points. Susek cut New Brighton's lead to one point by ringing in a foul. Then came Wilson with his spectacular shot in the final minute which gave New Kensington a 33-32 victory.

Wilson and Dayoub featured for New Kensington with Hurley, Beitsch and Maybray the best for the losers. Tonight we have Scottsdale meeting Scott high in another second round tilt.

The summary:
New Kensington 33, N. Brighton 32
Wilson F. Hurley
Krisleit F. Maybray
Dayoub G. Beitsch
Susek G. Alexander
Bell G. Steinfield
Field goals—Hurley 6, Maybray 3; Beitsch 3, Alexander, Steinfield, Wilson 6, Krisleit, Dayoub 6.

Foul goals—New Kensington 7 out of 15, New Brighton 4 out of 9.

McMillen Makes Plenty Of Coin From Wrestling

Man Who Aided Grange To Glory Surpasses "Red" In Matter Of Money

SHOULD RETIRE WITH MILLION

By LES CONKLIN
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Mar. 10.—Seven years ago when Bob Zuppke's Illinois football machine was mowing down all opposition, Jim McMillen received scant attention in the headlines. He was just a plunger, ripping holes in the line through which Red Grange galloped to glory.

While Grange turned professional amid a fanfare of publicity trumpets and reaped a harvest of gold, his classmate drifted into comparative obscurity. He too played professional football, but there was little money and less fame in it for a guard. After awhile McMillen took up professional wrestling, but was a forgotten figure until late last fall.

The story of their careers reads like the fable of the hare and the tortoise. Today Grange, the hare, who got off to such a brilliant start, is nearing the twilight of his career as a professional football player. He plans to retire from the gridiron in another year, and has no other job in prospect. The Wheaton red-head is said to have lost most of his fortune.

Starts To Cash In
McMillen the slow starter, is just beginning to cash in on the years of steady plugging that he put in on the wrestling mat. Last night he picked up a nice piece of change for a bout with Sandor Szabo, the little Hungarian, at Madison Square Garden.

McMillen turned the trick in 58:03 with a top scissors and bar lock, and thus went through with the formality of qualifying for a third bout with Jim London, recognized as champion in New York and Pennsylvania.

McMillen and London are two best drawing cards in promoter Jack Curley's stables, and from the looks of things they will continue their exhibition series from now until Christmas.

McMillen expects to clean up $40,000 this year. He received $11,000 for two previous matches with London at the Garden this year. If he takes care of himself, he will be able to retire from the mat game in fifteen years with close to a million dollars.

LINCOLN FIVE TRIMS LEHIGH

Playing stellar ball throughout, a fast Lincoln and Garfield school five defeated a strong Lehigh Warrior five by a 13-12 score in a game played in the Lincoln gym on Monday afternoon.

Barletto and Nocera featured for the Lincoln cagers while Sawich looked the best for the losers.

The summary:

Westminster Among District Leaders In Basketball For Last Five Seasons

Titans Have Won Three Tri-State League Titles

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Mar. 10.—Boasting a five-year record of 91 basketball victories out of 104 games played, Westminster College continues to lead the Pittsburgh district for this period. Three Tri-State Conference championships have been won in the five seasons, and district honors have been given the Titans on as many occasions.

Starting in 1927, Westminster has been one of the dominating factors in college basketball in Western Pennsylvania. Many old rivals have been defeated consistently, while no team has succeeded in defeating Westminster twice in the same season since 1927 when Waynesburg led the trick.

Westminster has defeated Allegheny nine times and lost once to the Methodists in five seasons. Thiel has been defeated on nine occasions, while the Titans have not been defeated by the Lutherans although this season the Greenville lads almost won out when they held Captain Rice and his mates to a 24-23 score at Greenville.

Grove City has been defeated in seven out of eight games in the last four years, the Grovers not appearing on the Titan schedule in 1927. Geneva, always a keen rival, has been defeated six times while the Covenantors have won four times. In eight games played with Duquesne, Westminster has won five and Duquesne three. Bethany has been defeated eight times, while two contests have been dropped to the Bisons.

Carnegie Tech Is Loser To Geneva

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Mar. 10.—Carnegie Tech's basketball season, which has been the most successful in the history of the sport at the plaid institution, was at an end today with the jinx that the Geneva college quintet exercised earlier in the season still in force. They snatched a close one from the Skibos last night 31-27.

Evenly matched throughout the contest, the two fives were tied a minute and a half before the finish, 27-all, after which the Covenantors sank two from the floor to clinch victory. Captain Nease for Tech, Captain Montgomery and Fair for Geneva, were the stand-out players of the fray.

Two Games Carded Wednesday Night

Two floor games are carded for the Y. M. C. A. floor on Wednesday night. The first game will start at 7:15 o'clock. The Y. M. C. team will play the West Pittsburgh club, and the Sacred Hearts and Wampum Merchants tangle in the second battle.

Down in Dixie Base Ball Notes

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Mar. 10.—Spring training here became, for the time being, somewhat secondary as all New York Giants, big and little new and old paused to give a pair of Japanese "spies" the once over.

The Oriental soft shoe duo, however, are not military intelligence men, but a couple of good-will ambassadors to American baseball.

Following a peek at the McGrawmen the Japs plan a visit to Connie Mack's flock, now at work in Fort Myers, Fla.

The Nipponese are picking up hints which they hope to put to practice when they get back to the island empire for the Japanese diamond season. They made the long trip to America just to find out what's new in baseball.

The reason the Japanese study McGraw's methods today, despite his recent lack of success in trying to win National league pennants, is because over there they regard John as the last word in baseball brains.

Gasoline As Low As Five Cents A Gallon Sold On Pacific Coast

(International News Service) LOS ANGELES, Cal., Mar. 10.—The gasoline price cutting war went on unabated here today with several operators of so-called boomers service stations selling the fuel as low as five cents a gallon.

The major oil companies were retreating gasoline at 12 1/2 cents a gallon, with many of the independent stations posting prices ranging from 10 to 10 1/2 cents a gallon.

Major companies are expected to make a further slash in prices.

NEW YORK STOCKS

Public Utility Stocks Take Spurt In Market

(International News Service) NEW YORK, Mar. 10.—A burst of new speculative buying of the Public Utility stocks in the first hour today carried a dozen or more of the leaders to new high levels for the year. Demand for the Utilities was based on the reported formation of a giant holding company to bring together Consolidated Gas, United Corporation and their affiliated companies, including Niagara Hudson Power and American Superpower into the most powerful utility combination the world has ever seen.

United States Steel forged ahead to 147 1/2, despite the fact that Wall Street looked for a decline in the February forward tonnage, to be shown in the monthly report at noon.

Consolidated Gas pushed forward in an enthusiastic buying move to 105 1/2, up nearly 3 points to the highest price of the year. United Corporation sold fractionally above

30. Public Service of New Jersey climbed about 2 points to 90 1/2 and Electric Power sold above 59. General Electric, Westinghouse and American Can continued the forward move which was in progress at yesterday's close.

The market was unsettled in the second hour by another drop in Warner Brothers to below 12 accompanied by a 2-point break in the 6 per cent bonds of the corporation. The balance of the Amusement group shared the reactionary tone of Warner, but losses were comparatively small.

The market was highly irregular in the second hour, some of the favorites dropping off a point or two while others forged ahead strongly. Electric Autolite, Johns Manville and Knitted Aircraft were good ground gainers. While Allied Chemical reacted. The Motors were unsettled by the reduction of Mack Trucks dividend to $3 a share, call money renewed at 2 per cent.

Utility Stocks Dominate Today

Whole List Of Stocks Dominated by Public Utility Stocks

BANKING GROUP GUIDES ADVANCE

By W. S. COUSINS International News Service Financial Editor

NEW YORK, Mar. 10.—Public utility stocks dominated the whole list today as buying orders for the gas and electric light and power shares poured in from all quarters. Visions of the largest and most powerful combination of utility properties, under the guidance of the strongest banking group ever brought together in a giant project, were seen by investors and speculators in Wall Street as the stocks of Consolidated Gas, United Gas Improvement and other highly rated companies continued their upward move.

Though the February unfilled tonnage report of the United States Steel corporation showed a decrease of 167,000 tons in forward orders, instead of the 75,000 tons forecasted, the steel stocks held firmly. A further speeding of the wheels of production in the steel industry as a whole will probably be shown in the weekly surveys of the Iron Age tomorrow, judged by the increase in buying demand from the automobile industry.

Consolidated Gas, popularly known as "big gas" took the lead of the utility group in its new movement up the hill today. At 107 1/2 the stock showed a new gain of 3 1/2 points and the highest price since last November. United Corporation was held back by profit taking, but managed to climb to fractionally above 30. United Gas Improvement forged ahead to 35 1/2, up 1 1/4 and new advances of 1 to 2 1/2 points were advanced by Electric Power, Public Service of N. J., Standard Gas and American Waterworks, Commonwealth and Southern, in the low-priced utility group, duplicated its best 1931 price at 12, in a heavy turnover.

BIBLE CLASS MEET

The Community Bible study class met Friday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Roy McBride.

Y. P. C. U. devotionals were led by Marion Carlisle, after which the class studied the book of Mark under the direction of Rev. Montgomery.

Election of officers for the ensuing year was held with the following being elected: president, Mrs. Earl Cover; vice president, Mrs. Larimer Carlisle; secretary, Mrs. Francis Kahn; treasurer, George Allen. A social time and a delicious lunch completed the evening.

FAREWELL PARTY

The King's Daughter's of Mahoning church with their friends held a party Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Baird in honor of Rev. A. G. Montgomery and his mother.

Fifty were present and enjoyed an evening of games together. Both Rev. Montgomery and his mother have been a great help to the society and are going to be a real loss to them. As a little remembrance from the members, Mrs. Montgomery was presented a cake dish and Rev. Montgomery an electric reading lamp. At the close of the evening refreshments were served.

TENT HALL NOTES

Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Baird, Mrs. Harry Kretzer and Mr. and Mrs. Francis Kahn were business visitors in New Castle.

Rev. F. C. Black of Oak Grove church will preach Sunday morning at Mahoning church.

Saturday evening, Mrs. Grace Kuhn visited in Youngstown with her daughter Mrs. C. E. Campbell.

Bill Bohack who has been in the St. Elizabeth hospital for several weeks recovering from an appendicitis operation has been removed home.

The Rev. A. G. Montgomery and his mother are still being extensively entertained before their departure from our church and community as they have made many friends during the past four years. Thursday evening Mr. and Mrs. Mac Baird entertained them at dinner. On Friday evening they had dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Francis Kuhn.

Mr. Will Ripple who has been ill is greatly improved.

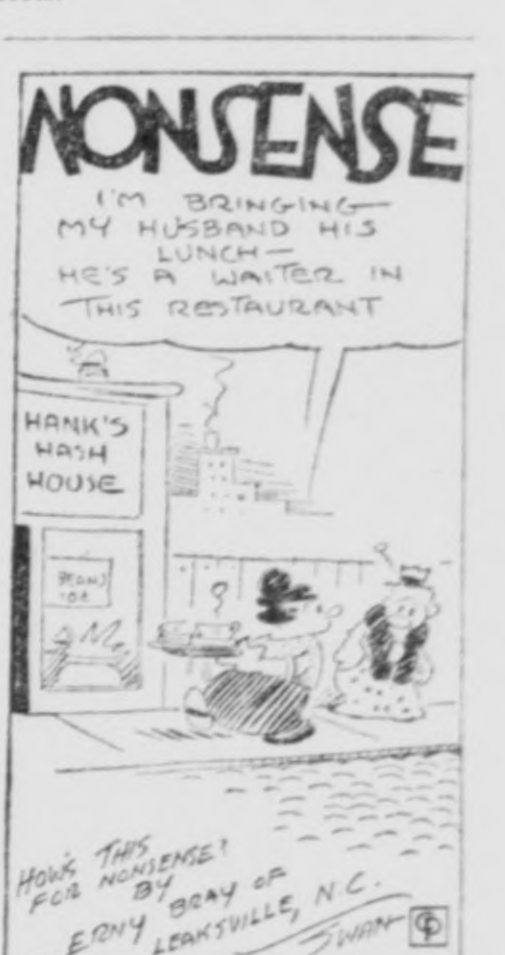

You're the JUDGE

The Decision

The court held the Alchouse company could sue at once.

The judges reasoned thus:

If one party takes absolute renunciation of a contract the renunciation constitutes a breach justifying an immediate action for recovery. By acting on such a repudiation at once, an injured party may succeed in lessening the injurious effects.

Senate Takes Up Light Calendar

Series Of Committee Meetings Determine Various Actions

APPOINTEES FOR BOARD APPROVED

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, Mar. 10.—After a series of committee meetings to determine what action shall be taken upon the measures before them the senate today will act upon a short calendar of bills for final passage.

They include one sponsored by Senator McClure, Delaware, providing for the return of one half the price of admission to a boxing bout which ends in a foul. As originally drawn the bill provided that the entire price of admission be returned but it was amended in committee to make only one half returnable.

Bills passed finally last night included the administration-backed measure sponsored by Rep. Sterling, Philadelphia, which will increase by $6,000,000 the emergency borrowing capacity of that city. The bill was amended in the senate to limit such increased emergency borrowing to the present year so that it will be returned to the house for concurrence.

Board Is Approved
The senate also passed finally last night the bill of Senator Coyne, Allegheny, which increases from $8,000 to $12,000 the maximum annual salary for department heads in Pittsburgh.

The names submitted by Governor Gifford Pinchot to replace the workmen's compensation board which he removed were reported from the committee on executive nominations and confirmed almost without opposition. Senator Salus, Philadelphia, was the lone vote opposing Arthur C. Dale, Bellefonte, for chairman. Senator Howell, Lackawanna, joined Salus in opposing William J. Burchinal, Connelville, while E. J. Hunter, Philadelphia, newspaperman was confirmed without a single dissenting vote.

The senate received and referred without comment to the committee on elections a protest against the legality of the election of Senator Henry L. Snyder, Lehigh, Democrat. The protest was in the form of a resolution presented by three Lehigh county voters. It alleged excessive expenditures and violation of the election act of 1927 which forbids the spending of money for "dissemination of information." Snyder defeated Horace W. Schantz, for several decades a Republican leader in that district.

Oil-States Advisory Committee Recommends Plans To Save Industry

CONFERENCE IS QUITE SUCCESSFUL

(International News Service) TEXARKANA, Ark., Mar. 10.—Urging early acceptance of their recommendations, members of the Oil-States Advisory Committee forwarded to their respective state governments today a plan they said would "solve the problems which have taken the oil industry to the brink of disaster."

After an all-day conference which ended late yesterday, the committee emerged with its proposal, the pertinent points of which are:

1. Drastic curtailment of oil production, to stabilize the price and conserve the vast underground stores now being dissipated.
2. Adoption of the plan of Governor William Murray, of Oklahoma, to bar importations of foreign oil, which, if allowed to continue, would nullify the benefits of curtailment in American production.
3. The appointment in each of the states represented at the conference of a conservation commission to enforce production curtailment.
4. Perpetuation of the Oil-States Advisory Committee to act as a liaison between the various state commissions as to amount of production allocated to the various states.

Gasoline Tug Is Missing On Lake

Alarm Felt For Safety Of Small Gasoline Tug In Lake Michigan

(International News Service) CHARLEVOIX, Mich., Mar. 10.—Alarm was expressed here today over the safety of the gasoline tug "Ebel" S. with a crew of four aboard which has been missing since Wednesday when it put out into Lake Michigan.

The craft carries only a small amount of fuel and food. Harbor officials here declare that it would be impossible for the boat to weather the snow storm which has been sweeping the lake.
